NO. 24—SEVENTY-FIRST YEAR | VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA, TUESDAY, JANUARY 8, 1929 | TWENTY-TWO PAGES

CANADA-U.S.A. CONFERENCE BEGINS IN OTTAWA

Mayor Urges Change Of Policy by Council In Seeking Industries

Inaugural Statement to Colleagues Follows Closely Lines of Platform at Recent Election—Reduction of Committee Personnel—Survey of Watershed Is Recommended

Better Relations With Neighboring Municipalities Declared Desirable

MAYOR Anscomb's address to the City Council at its inaugural meeting last evening followed closely the line of his election platform, in relation to simplifying the machinery of management by committees, recommendation for permanent improvement at the Wiltsea Park, a survey of the Sooke Lake watershed timber, better relations with the neighboring municipalities, and automatic registration of taxpayers of all classes.

The finance committee, he suggested, should work out a policy of sale of vacant lands to Victoria citizens. To the new industrial committee he made important recommendations, saying:

"With particular reference to the industrial committee, I feel—rightly or wrongly—and I think after careful analysis you will agree with me, that this committee, or subcommittees of it, has gone somewhat beyond its scope of general requirements. I do not feel the city should undertake such investigations as it has recently done along the lines of port development, interviewing and findings of that kind. In discussing this matter with the city solicitor I find that there is a grave possibility that the Railway Board might if they agree to give an order providing the interwetching requested —assess some part of the cost against the city. Their powers, premarkly, are wide in the matter, so much so, as I understand it, that such assessment could be applied even if we are not parties to the application although under ordinary circumstances it is not so likely to be a part of the board's policy as if we were parties to the application, and the city should not be put in that position.

FEARS DUPLICATION

"When the sound undertakes work of this nature we seem to me to be duplicating the work of the Chamber of Commerce, a distinctly body who, by virtue of its ability to call on its large general membership for expert advice, must automatically be better qualified to undertake such matters than is the City Council. If I am not correct in this assumption then to my mind the chamber might as well be abolished. One thing is quite apparent, that for both bodies to be following the same lines of action means an unnecessary duplication of service.

"In stating the position as clearly I am not for a moment depreciating the valuable work of the industrial committee in the past, but I do feel as a basis of policy that it should confine itself entirely to the work that its name implies.

"Without in any way depreciating the doing of any of the members—and I would ask you to understand me clearly—that the have adopted—I do consider the question of industrial development and the policies adopted by the city in the past of such great importance that it seems wise and necessary the council should secure, if at all possible, the advice and assistance of some of our outstanding industrialists, and in that connection I suggest to the industrial committee they endeavor to secure the assistance and advice of two gentlemen with these qualifications, to assist them in their deliberations. While it is, of course, understood that these gentlemen would have no voting power, and would act gra-

TEX RICKARD TO BE BURIED FROM GARDEN

Funeral of World's Pre-eminent Promoter of Sport Contests to Be Held in New York Tomorrow

DEATH ENDS LONG COLORFUL CAREER

(By Edward J. Neil, Associated Press Sports Writer.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—In the very centre of Madison Square Garden, the body of Tex Rickard will rest in state tomorrow.

Surrounded only by those who knew him best, the body of the greatest boxing promoter in history will lie beneath the rafters of the building he helped put together with his own hands. He will rest where the ring symbols of his greatest successes, usually stands.

The massed seats about the arena, stretching up in rows for two fifty blocks, will be empty. There will be none of the colorful, roaring crowd instead there will be a handful of mourners his closest friends grouped around all that remains of the shrewd, yet simple, silent friendly figure of fistic champions.

The body of the promoter will arrive at 10:19 a.m. from Miami Beach, Florida, where Rickard died on Sunday after failing to rally from an appendix operation performed on New Year's Day. After a police escort of twenty men, the body will be accompanied to the massive steel and stone building by Jack Dempsey, Walter Pierce, Mrs. Rickard and the directors of Madison Square Garden. Once there, the

KING MAKING GRADUAL GAIN

CONFERENCES OF PHYSICIANS DAILY BECOME BRIEFER—CONFIDENCE FELT

Provided There Is No Relapse Only One Bulletin Will Be Taken Be Issued Daily

LONDON, Jan. 7.—Two medical bulletins issued today reported that the King had passed a fair night and a quiet day, although there was no noteworthy change in His Majesty's condition.

But more significant of the physicians' confidence in continuance of progress was the official announcement that only one bulletin would be issued tomorrow. It was indicated that, provided there is no relapse, the one bulletin will probably would be continued. In that event a bulletin even out in the evening.

Sir Hugh Rigby, the surgeon in the case, did not visit the palace this evening, his absence indicating that the condition of the wound was entirely satisfactory.

Consultations of the doctors are daily becoming briefer. Up to the king's bulletin was issued unusually early. It came out at 7.40 o'clock and said:

"The King had a quiet day

There is no change to report in the King's condition. The next bulletin will be issued tomorrow morning."

The British public, although still intensely interested in the King's progress, now accepts his complete recovery as a foregone conclusion. The tense solicitude which formerly characterized the crowds around the palace gates has disappeared. The waters for news showed the usual pleasure today when they say the Queen depart on her regular afternoon automobile outing.

Princess Mary and Viscount Lascelles, who have been staying at Buckingham Palace, will leave for Goldsborough Hall, their Yorkshire home, tomorrow.

Order Prevails at Diamond Field; Big Meeting Held

PORT NOLLOTH, Union of South Africa, Jan. 7.—Crowds of diamond diggers in the vicinity of the Namaqualand district streamed into this town today for the critical meetings in connexion with the Government's restrictions on digging in the large diamond fields near here.

A large body of police was placed on guard over the diggings which are also surrounded by a seven-foot barbed wire fence.

So far everything is quiet and inclinations are the meeting will be held in peace. The leaders still advocate adherence to lawful methods on the part of disappointed would-be prospectors, and will urge that if the Government's reply to future communications is unsatisfactory, further representations could be made.

Winnipeg Electric Company President Sends Resignation

WINNIPEG, Man., Jan. 7.—The Winnipeg Evening Tribune today states that it "understands that A. W. McLimont, president of the Winnipeg Electric Railway, has placed his resignation before the directors."

"A meeting of the board will be held shortly to consider it," the paper states. "At present Mr. McLimont is seriously ill at his home here, suffering from bronchial influenza with complications. His resignation is due. It is understood, partly to ill health, but in a greater degree to a growing desire to give his time to his own business affairs."

Riel Veteran Dies

WINNIPEG, Jan. 7.—W. H. Nesbitt, veteran of the Riel Rebellion and a resident of Winnipeg for the past forty-eight years, is dead here today. Born in Terrapinne, Quebec, he came West in 1882 and had not missed a Convention Day parade in forty-four years.

Lava Flow of Volcano Sets Forest Afire

BUENOUS AIRES, Jan. 7.—Five bodies have been recovered by carpenters from the ruin caused by eruption of the Chilean volcano Calbuco near Llanquihue, official reports from Puerto Monti say that many hundred more have been taken from the stricken area.

All available boats were sent across Lake Llanquihue from Puerto Barns, on the west shore, in an attempt to rescue the stricken people and their livestock. The River Pescado was choked with tree trunks and steam rose from its waters as hot ashes and burning wood fell into it. The molten lava set fire to the forests and thus created an additional menace.

WOULD LIMIT LOGGING ON WATERSHED

Gradual Removal of Ripe Timber Over Long Period Is Suggested by City Engineer

REPORT IS MADE TO CITY COUNCIL

That the perpetual preservation of any forest watershed was necessary that he was absolutely against selling of timber on the Sooke Lake watershed in a wholesale fashion but that he had no objection to proper weeding out of ripe timber, a recommendation that the Sooke master of basic conception was laid and off in sections and that such contracts in each year for logging certain sections under stringent specifications, were features in the report to the City Council last night by City Engineer R. M. Preston. The report was referred to the next council meeting, when Mayor Anscomb's policy in connection with timber on the city's watersheds will be considered.

INSTRUCTED BY COUNCIL

The engineer said he had been instructed by last year's council to investigate the best stage to be taken to preserve timber on the city's watersheds through systematic and judicious thinning out of ripe timber and replanting.

"I am still of the opinion," he stated, "that the perpetual preservation of any forest watershed is necessary and I am absolutely against selling off timber on the Sooke Lake watershed in a wholesale fashion, but have no objection to proper weeding out.

"I would suggest that the area be properly surveyed and laid off in sections, and that small contracts be let each year for the logging of certain sections under stringent specifications.

SUGGESTS DAY LABOR

"It might also be possible to do this by city day labor, but owing to the improbability of being able to employ loggers the whole year round, and owing to the aversion of the logger to staying in one location long, I think it is likely that the letting of small contracts would be more economical

"As I have already recommended to you, I think a complete survey of the whole watershed should be made before anything else is commenced.

"At the present time the chief daily morning fires arising would be through the existence of dead trees and underbrush, and naturally the removal of these would not be immediately objectionable, but if small logging contracts were let the whole matter could be preserved."

Ruling Party in Manitoba Convenes

BRANDON, Jan. 7 (CP)—Gathering in board sessions tonight, early arrivals for the annual "parliament" of the United Farmers of Manitoba forecast an attendance of well over 300 delegates for the four-day convention, which opens formally tomorrow morning.

Thirteen districts, which form the United Farmers' body, are certain to be represented when Mayor Harry Oster delivers his address of welcome tomorrow morning.

Mr. Elihu Root Accepts Place in World Court

GENEVA, Jan. 7.—Elihu Root, eminent American statesman has notified the Leaguer of Nations of his acceptance of membership of a committee of jurists appointed to revise the statutes of the World Court. The proposal for revision emanated from the French delegates was adopted at the last Assembly of the League with the idea that a new statute might be drawn up from which would facilitate American accession to the court.

The provision that unanimity on the council would be necessary before any advisory opinion could be requested of the court, would solve the difficulty arising from the reservations which the United States has imposed as a condition of membership.

NEW INDUSTRY FREELY AIDED

Potters of Vancouver Island Receive Encouragement Through Generous Gift of Late Hon. W. C. Nichol

KILN ARRIVES IN EXCELLENT SHAPE

One of the infant industries of British Columbia received a marked stimulus with the arrival in the city on Sunday of the big pottery kiln, which Hon. W. C. Nichol, shortly before his death, presented to the potters of Victoria and Vancouver Island. The kiln, which was made by the Denver Fire Clay Company of Denver, Colorado, is still in the freight office awaiting clearance from the customs, but as soon as the industrial committee of the City Council, of which Alderman Sirath is chairman, gives the necessary formal assent, the equipment will be moved up to the City Hall and installed in the quarters which, it is understood, have already been practically decided upon

The gift is one of the many munificent ones which Mr. Nichol made in the interests of art. Like others in the same group which included his craft love some seven or eight years ago, Mr. Nichol was convinced that the time was ripe for the industry pottery should be encouraged on Vancouver Island, and when the movement became more than an ideal and the potters began to turn out their picturesque ware made of local clay and fluorspar on the Coast Indian design, he immediately stepped forward with the liberality patronizing the enterprise and adding many specimens to his private collection at "Miraloma."

WANT CANADA TO PUT BAN ON EXPORT OF LIQUOR TO U.S.A.

Lord Mayor's Fund Has Now Reached Sum of £450,000

LONDON, Jan. 7 (C.P. Cable). — The Lord Mayor's fund for the relief of unemployed miners has now reached approximately £450,000. The question now to be faced is, what form of assistance ought to be rendered.

At present, the need for the necessities of life is so great that it demands the major part of the attention of those administering the fund. While this need must be met as soon as possible, it is realized something should be done to provide some form of really productive work for some of the unemployed.

PLANE FLIES 12,000 MILES WITHOUT STOP

Question Mark Estimated to Have Flown Distance Equal to Crossing Atlantic Four Times

STAYS IN AIR FOR NEARLY SEVEN DAYS

METROPOLITAN AIRPORT, LOS ANGELES, Jan. 7.—The army's endurance flight plane, Question Mark, glided to a perfect landing here at 2.07.01 o'clock this afternoon, after a historic and record-smashing flight of 150 hours, 40 minutes and 14 seconds. The flight had been in the air continuously for six days and seven days, following its take-off here on New Year's morning at 7.26.46 o'clock. Allowing an average speed of eighty miles an hour the plane has flown 12,000 miles—four times the width of the Atlantic Ocean.

The end of one of the greatest flights in all aviation history came after a crew of five weary men had fought for some time against difficulties with the motors which piled trouble in a heap upon them an hour before the landing. Thirty hours before, their work seemed near an end when the motors sputtered, but the danger cleared away and the flight was on. Then it was decided to protest to the great strain placed upon them, the motors stuttered, one went "dead," and with another rapidly failing, the nose of the plane was forced earthward.

As the great black-bodied plane with its shining yellow wings lolthed earth, almost upon the spot where it had left it a week before, a cabin door swung open and from it stepped the crew.

Not one of the five, though worn and haggard, was hurt. Record-commanding officer, Captain Ira C. Eaker. Lieutenant Harry A. Halr, co-

Thirteen Petitions Are Presented to Railway Board

VANCOUVER, Jan. 7.—Forces are lining up to do battle before the Board of Railway Commissioners here tomorrow morning. Thirteen petitions have been filed before the board. The city will appear to argue that the Canadian Pacific Railway estimate of $1,719,875 for a tunnel to replace the Carnal Street crossing is expensive to claim that the railway and not the city should pay the greater proportion of the cost of the tunnel. Grain rates will also come up again.

UNEMPLOYMENT COSTS VANCOUVER $42,000

VANCOUVER, Jan. 7.—Relief and unemployment in Vancouver last year totalled $232,170.42, according to the report of O. D. Ireland, relief officer, presented to the board meeting of the relief committee of the city on Monday evening.

Dividing his administration under the two heads, Mr. Ireland stated that $123,400 expended for relief for families, $64,200 for aged, infirm and sick and $42,000 for unemployment through the supplementals gives expenditure, including overhead, as deducted $6,420.12 received in cash refunds, of which $3,180.76 was in pensions.

Imports amounted to $815,-226,795, an increase of $106,000,000. Exports were $509,202,916 or $18,-000,000 heavier than the 1927 period.

Officials Appointed by Governments of Two Countries Today Commence Joint Discussion of How to Make Smuggling Across Boundary Line More Difficult

Head of Delegation From Washington States Purpose

Will Aim to Improve Conditions on International Border—One of Outstanding Things to Come Up Will Be Proposal to Refuse Clearance to Liquor

OTTAWA, Jan. 7.—"We are here for no more than an informal talk with our Canadian friends, regarding the matter of smuggling both to and from the United States," declared Admiral F. C. Billard, chief of the United States coastguard service, and head of the delegation which reached here from Washington today.

VANCOUVER, B.C., Jan. 7.—A recommendation that a general survey of traffic conditions in Vancouver be made, and that J. W. Billing, C.E. traffic engineer of Seattle, be engaged for the purpose, will go forward from the civic police and traffic committee to the city council Monday night.

In a letter from the automobile club read by the chairman, Alderman R. J. Degraves, the proposal was highly commended. It was stated that Mr. Bolleng would be available January 14, and the total cost of the survey would be approximately $700.

Mr. Jones' first play, "A Clerical Error," was published in 1879, and he continued his active career until the world war.

SENATE ABOUT READY TO SIGN

EARLY RATIFICATION OF KELLOG ANTI-WAR PACT APPEARS POSSIBLE

Senator Announces Agreement Will Probably Be Reached by Today —Borah Not Sure

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Early ratification of the Kellogg Anti-War Treaty appeared as a possibility tonight after a day of conferences had brought an agreement near on the sole dispute in the treaty discussion, whether an interpretation of America's rights under the pact is necessary.

The negotiations had reached such a stage late today that Senator Moses, Republican, New Hampshire, the author of the interpretative resolution which has been approved by President Coolidge, announced that he had an understanding existing by tomorrow seemed likely.

The latitude agreement called for a report by the foreign relations committee stating its interpretation of American rights under the treaty, and the ratification of this report by the other powers.

Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, outstanding opponent of the pact, and others fighting for the interpretative resolution, are ready to accept this proposition which would place before all the signatory nations the views of the Senate foreign affairs leaders on the treaty.

Chairman Borah of the committee, who is leading the fight for the proposed agreement, is by no means certain yet. The statement of other administration leaders is awaited before a definite decision to the undertaking can be announced.

There were definite indications from other treaty proponents, including some of the Democratic spokesmen, that such a proposal would not be opposed by them. The Democrats generally have aided with Chairman Borah in his fight for ratification of the treaty without reservation or an accompanying resolution.

"The party will engage in conversations with Canadian departmental officials on matters dealing with the prevention of smuggling.

"You will recall that in 1924 an agreement was reached between the two countries, as a result of which greater supervision over shipping at sea was taken. Both countries did a great part in observing the obligations of this convention, but we have found out that in practice it has not had the complete desired effect. Our discussions here, then, will centre upon how to make conference smuggling more difficult. In the two countries, and how to improve conditions on our international border."

Admiral Billard declared that one of the outstanding things that the American delegation would take up would be the cessation of liquor-laden ships from Canadian ports for the United States. The matter of asking for extradition of violators of the volstead Act was not in the programme, he said.

This afternoon the United States representatives were received at the offices of the United States legation, where their preliminary work was gone over.

Discussions with the Canadian officials will begin at 10 a.m. tomorrow.

MEMBERS OF DELEGATION

The United States delegation t. the anti-smuggling conference, headed by Admiral F. C. Billard, arrived in Ottawa at noon today. Other members of the delegation are Dr. J. M. Doyle, commissioner of prohibition, E. W. Camp, commissioner of customs; F. C. De Wolfe, of the state department; F. H. Murphy, justice department, and H. J. Anslinger, liaison officer between the state and treasury departments. During the conferences this group will be supported by United States representatives at Ottawa, including F. L. Mayer, counsel of the American Legation, L. H. Linnell, United States immigration general, and L. W. Keesling, United States trade commissioner.

The importance of the conference in the eyes of the American press was indicated by the arrival with the delegates of a large number of newspapermen from the Eastern States.

The personnel of both parties in the conference is purely departmental, from which it is gathered that a considerable portion of the discussion may be taken up with exploring ways and means of further improving the existing methods between the two Governments.

THE CHIEF QUESTION

The Americans have come to Canada with certain suggestions designed to curb liquor smuggling from Canada into the United States. One is that Canada should refuse clearance to vessels carrying liquor from Canada to United States ports.

What attitude the Canadian delegates will take has not been disclosed, but it is believed that they quite appreciate the difficulty of complying with a request which would have the effect of restraining the trading activities of a country which, in Canada, is legitimate. It is realized now it is useful in Canada to export liquor, many grave abuses have arisen and new laws or provisions were to be written into the law in favor of any one foreign country.

Mayor Urges Change Of Policy by Council In Seeking Industries

tuitously, their special knowledge along industrial lines would be of immense benefit to the committee and the service, I am sure, would be appreciated by the citizens as a whole.

A POTENTIAL OPPORTUNITY

"I desire to take this opportunity of asking this committee to at once see if it is possible for the city to take advantage of the Dominion Government's offer of an expert industrial engineer to make a survey for us. If the committee does that, and follows up energetically any possible leads that may develop, as well as devoting its attention to bringing to a successful issue the three industries so heavily bonused by the city, it will have performed a great benefit to the citizens.

"Following the outline of my proposals during the election campaign, I have made some change in the line-up of the committees. I feel that a good deal of your labors can be shortened and eliminated by abolishing what seemed to me to be surplus committees and placing the responsibility, previously undertaken by the alderman, on the respective heads of the various departments who, in turn, can report to a committee of the whole when the necessity demands or, in lieu of that, a special committee can be appointed to deal with any particular problem, and dissolved when its work is compyleted

In this connection I have omitted from the regular and accepted run of city committees the following: Lands, Water, Legislative, Health and Morals, Civic Service; and there remain standing, with slight alterations and (or) additions to their respective duties, the following: Finance, Fire Wardens, Reception and Entertainment, Industrial, Public Works, Parks and Boulevards; and I have selected the following to take charge of the duties of these committees, and in all cases I suggest the first named will act as chairman of their respective committees.

Finance, including Taxation, Soldiers' Housing and Lands—Mayor, Mara, Straith, Dewar; Monday, 2 o'clock.

Fire Wardens—Worthington, Adam, Litchfield; Monday, 4:30 o'clock.

Reception and Entertainment, including Royal Athletic Park, Aged Men's Home and Aged Women's Home—Adam, Litchfield, Harvey; Tuesday, 4 o'clock.

Industrial — Straith, Woodward, Cullin; Tuesday, 2 o'clock.

Public Works, including Electric Light — Mara, Marchant, Worthington; Wednesday, 2 o'clock.

Parks, Boulevards and Market, including Ross Bay Cemetery—Harvey, Woodward, Marchant; Wednesday, 4 o'clock.

"In striking the personnel of these committees I have made many changes from those of former years. I feel it is good business to have a change of outlook in these departments. You will readily understand that, in abolishing five out of eleven committees, it is not possible to give all aldermen the honor of being chairman of a particular section but, if we are all genuinely looking to the good of the city, there can be—and I am sure there will be—no cause for complaint on that account.

"I have also adopted as a general rule the policy of small committees, which experience has convinced me leads to much greater efficiency and speed; both of which are so essential. It is desirable also, I believe, that no one committee constitute a majority of the council, and I have drafted accordingly.

ROSS BAY CEMETERY

"I would like to call the attention of the Parks and Boulevards committee to the condition of Ross Bay Cemetery, and suggest that they formulate some definite policy towards its improvement; such suggestions to include, besides the method adopted to cover the improvements, the best manner to finance such work.

RECOMMENDS CHANGE

"With regard to the Civic Service Committee, I understand this is covered by By-Law No. 2417, and the members are appointed by resolution of the council. Under these circumstances I have no power to appoint or abolish the committee, but I recommend its abolition; and, if necessary to do so, that the by-law be repealed.

"Of the five organisations outside the scope of the city itself, but on which the city had direct representation, I take pleasure in recommending to you the following names for your approval:

Friendly Help—Adam, Woodward.

Victoria-Saanich Beaches and Parks—Mayor, Harvey, Woodward, Marchant (which is the City Parks Committee).

Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau — Mayor, Worthington, Cullin, Mara, Straith.

British Columbia Agricultural Association—Woodward, Litchfield, Cullin.

Library Commission — Worthington; others chosen by ballot

Court Revision Voters' List—Mayor, Mara, Dewar

Court Revision Assessment Roll—Whole council.

WILLOWS PARK

"In the case of the Agricultural Association, I would like to ask this committee to confer with the Association's representatives and see what can be done in the nature of a permanent policy towards making the Willows grounds not only much more attractive to the general public, but also better, if possible, from a revenue-producing viewpoint. A complete survey should be made and recommendations placed before the council for a policy of development extending over a period of years.

FRANCHISE REGISTRATION

"Early in the year I hope to have your undivided support—if necessary by application to the Legislature for the required powers, to enable us to register automatically every British subject who pays a road or other tax which entitles him to the franchise, instead of continuing as at present the very unsatisfactory method now in vogue, a method which not only creates great dissatisfaction with the general public, but one which defeats in many instances the democratic principle of taxation with representation.

"As a matter of permanent policy, and in order that you may be definitely informed as to our holdings of timber on the Sooke Lake watershed and its possibilities, you will be asked to pass the necessary vote in the estimates to take care of this problem.

TO ABOLISH OFFICES

"I am glad to advise that the posts formerly known as water consultant and industrial commissioner automatically expired on December 31 last, and I trust there will be no suggestions that they be renewed.

"Our combined efforts should be exercised on every possible occasion to effect rigid economy, not, however, at the sacrifice of efficiency, in all departments, so that a long-looked-for tax reduction can be effected if at all possible. On arriving at a tax rate, due regard should be given to see that the rate is not reduced one year, only to be increased the next. This is not only bad business policy, but serves to create a lack of confidence in municipal affairs both at home and abroad.

RELATION WITH NEIGHBORS

"I sincerely hope that our relations with the adjoining municipalities will be of the most cordial nature. The policy of sparring for so-called small advantages to no real purpose must cease. It only leads to a spirit of antagonism and ill-will. We must adopt and maintain a big, broad outlook on all inter-municipal affairs. I am satisfied that the municipalities (no matter what may have happened in years gone by) are willing and ready to pay their full and proper share towards those services which are supplied by the city, provided our dealings are all above board, and the approach made in the proper spirit.

"In considering all matters placed before you—it is natural, of course, that due regard be given to the importance of each subject—that the views of all members be ascertained and brought to bear on the various problems under review, but in doing so, I ask that you give prompt consideration to all matters in order that wherever possible loss of time may be avoided.

"I firmly believe that our city is on the threshold of big development, and it is under these happy auspices that I extend to my colleagues on the council, and all members of the city's staff, hearty good wishes for the new year, and express the fervent hope that before our labors have progressed very far, Almighty God may be pleased to restore to a permanent condition of health our most gracious Sovereign His Majesty the King."

COMMENT ON ADDRESS

On a motion from Alderman Woodward it was decided that a copy of the Mayor's inaugural address be sent to each alderman, and that the recommendations made with respect to policies and committees outside the city council chamber be considered at the next meeting of the council.

Alderman Woodward said that he could not altogether agree with the Mayor in connection with his industrial policy.

Mayor Anscomb replied that the very fact that he had appointed an industrial committee of the council was indicative of the fact that he desired that the city should do all that was possible to encourage industries here. "Alderman Woodward, I am afraid, has misinterpreted my remarks in connection with industries," he said.

Both Alderman Dewar and Alderman Woodward took exception to the membership of the Court of Revision on Assessment. The Mayor had named the entire council. This they pointed out, was in contravention of the Municipal Act and, in any case, was too large when such a court had to sit for many days, as in the case of last year for twelve days.

On the motion of Alderman Woodward it was finally decided that Mayor Anscomb, Aldermen John Worthington, John Harvey, William Marchant and W. H. Cullin should form the Court of Revision on Assessment.

NO MORE GAS IN STOMACH

Daily Use of Bisurated Magnesia Keeps Stomach Healthy and Free From Indigestion

Gas in the stomach and indigestion are due, in nearly every case, to the presence of harmful acid in the stomach, creating sourness, fermentation and the pain of delayed digestion. These dangerous and unpleasant conditions may be stopped instantly and further attacks prevented by the daily use, following meals, of Bisurated Magnesia, which neutralizes the dangerous acid the moment it forms in the stomach and thus permits easy, painless, natural digestion. Bisurated Magnesia is the surest and quickest stomach antacid in the world and is perfectly harmless to use. It is daily used by thousands of people all over the civilized world. The cost is trifling and it can be obtained either in powder or tablet form of any well stocked drug store. Do not confuse with other forms of magnesia. Insist on Bisurated. Try a package today and say good-bye to stomach trouble. (Advt.)

Council Sets Fast Pace at First Session

THE heaviest agenda in years faced the 1929 City Council at its first meeting held last night. There were no fewer than forty-six items of business to be dealt with. The meeting started at 8 o'clock, with Mayor Anscomb in the chair, and did not close until 10 o'clock. It took an hour and a quarter to deal with forty-one of these items. The other five were dealt with in camera. The council has set a precedent in the handling of business that augurs even shorter meetings when the programme is not so heavy. Formerly the council meetings did not adjourn until 11 o'clock at night.

body will lie in state until Wednesday morning at 10 a.m., when the public will be admitted. Religious services of a type as yet undetermined, will be held at 1:30 p.m., with burial at 2 p.m. in the Rickard plot at Woodlawn, where his first wife and daughter lie.

Pallbearers will be John H. Chapman, Jack Dempsey, R. F. Hoyt, W. F. Carey, Colonel Hammond, Matthew Brush, James L. Bush, Harvey Gibson, John Ringling, Walter Fields, J. A. Farley, William Muldoon, G. E. Browser, Walter Camp, J. Kilpatrick, Sidney H. Kent, D. W. Dilworth, J. Ernest Rickards, J. W. Dillon and Sheldon Fairbanks.

CAME TOO LATE

CAMAGUAY, Cuba, Jan. 7.—Eight Americans, flying against time, made a futile attempt to bring medical aid to Tex Rickard after landing on a precariously small field at Manheillo and getting Dr. William Mayo, famous surgeon, for whom they had flown 1,200 miles. The party arrived at Camaguay yesterday, only to learn that Rickard had died. Dr. Mayo dined last night with Captain Batterson, Floyd Gibbons and Basil Wood, and expressed regret that the attempt to obtain his aid had been made too late.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—If Tex Rickard had not feared a surgeon's knife more than he did appendicitis, he might still be alive today.

Rickard had suffered attacks of appendicitis from time to time for the last twelve years, and physicians eased the pain with ice packs but advised Rickard to undergo an operation.

"They'll never get me with their bowies," the promoter used to say. "They can shoot me, but not cut me."

LIFE OF ADVENTURE

Before Tex Rickard ever thought of promoting a boxing match his career had stretched through a string of story-book adventures from the plains of Texas to the gold fields of Alaska and back to the gambling halls of Nevada.

He was born in Kansas City, Mo., January 2, 1870, but his father moved to Sherman, Texas, when the only son, George, was four years old. The youngster grew up on a cattle ranch at Cambridge, Texas, and was riding herd in Henrietta after his father died when Rickard was ten years old. After several years as a cowboy and later town marshal of Henrietta, young Rickard joined the rush to the Klondike. He landed with another cowboy at Juneau, lugged his sleds through the Chilkoot Pass and 300 miles across lakes to the head of the Yukon and promptly "struck it rich" in the famous Bonanza strike.

LOST IT ALL

With a profit of $60,000 Rickard set up a gambling hall and saloon at Dawson. In one night a band of lucky miners wiped him out, playing roulette and faro, and he was forced to cut wood for five months at $15 a cord for a living. He slung his axe at the side of Rex Beach, noted novelist, until 1899, when he hiked to Nome and set up another saloon and gambling hall, with only $35 capital.

In four years, Rickard, now known throughout Alaska as "Tex," made $500,000, most of which he lost on barren gold claims. Tiring of Alaska, Tex returned to San Francisco, then on to the Tonopah and Goldfield section of Nevada in 1903, with $60,000, all that was left of the half million, and started another "recreation hall" in Goldfield.

CAME TO MADISON SQUARE

Rickard came east to take over the old Madison Square Garden in 1920, an arena then considered a "white elephant." Within a few years he lifted fight promotion to record levels, built the new Madison Square Garden and made a big business of boxing. His greatest successes were Gene Tunney's heavyweight title battles with Jack Dempsey at Philadelphia and Chicago, with gates running over $2,000,000.

Through his boxing activities and other investments Rickard is believed to have amassed a fortune of several million dollars. He owns cattle ranches in South America.

Rickard's death will mean the loss of a friend and counsellor to hundreds of old timers in the fight racket and to many of the broken wrecks of fistiana he was a financial lifesaver.

Rickard is survived by his second wife, the former Maxine Hodges, whom he married at Lewisburg, W. Va., October 10, 1926, and one daughter, Maxine. His first wife died in 1925.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—The boxing expert of The Daily Telegraph today concluded a lengthy memoir of George L. Rickard by saying: "Throughout his astonishing career his word was always his bond."

Sporting Life expressed the belief that Rickard's death had probably closed the era of fabulous purses for boxers.

COLOGNE, Germany, Jan. 7.—The Argentine heavyweight, Epifanio Islas, knocked out the German champion, Ludwig Haymann, in the fourth round of their bout here tonight.

Change of Status Adjusted by New Commissions

Although the Government had taken action looking to the overcoming of any inconvenience that might arise in the police court jurisdiction in Greater Vancouver, consequent upon the creation of a new municipality from three former existing ones, that greater centre was without its local court yesterday. The commissions of the police magistrates did not arrive in time to allow of the new appointees acting. They will be able to proceed with their duties today.

The Government, upon the creation of the new municipality, rescinded the appointments of the various police magistrates who had been acting in the various areas which made up the new Vancouver. At the same time the appointments of Magistrates Shaw and Findlay were made for the new municipality.

The commissions had not arrived yesterday, hence the difficulty which left the city without a police court

KING MAKES ARMY CHIEF HIS PREMIER

Laws in Jugoslavia to Be Made by Decree of Monarch — Parliamentary Government Is Suspended

ACTION NECESSARY TO SAVE KINGDOM

VIENNA, Jan. 7.—Advices from Belgrade state that General Peter Zivkovitch, newly-appointed Jugoslavian Premier, entered upon his duties as head of the new military dictatorship in Jugoslavia today by declaring that his policy would be one of silence and work, and not explanations to the press. He was quoted as saying that the press would receive no verbal information respecting Government decisions, which will be published in the official Royal Gazette. He will conduct the affairs of his office, both as chief of the Imperial Guard and as Premier, at King Alexander's palace.

In this he will have the assistance of General Hadjitch as Minister of War, who, ever since King Alexander's succession to the throne, has been a member of a powerful military group in Belgrade.

General Zivkovitch, who is chief of the King's personal bodyguard, at one time was charged by the Croats with having admitted into the royal palace in 1903 the military conspirators who murdered the then King, Alexander of Serbia and Queen Draga, as well as a number of Cabinet ministers. These assassinations caused England to break relations with Serbia at the time.

The advices stated that no concealment had been made of the fact that these two stern soldiers would use the Jugoslavian army, one of the largest and best-disciplined and trained in the Balkans, as the chief instrument for repressing any revolutionary movement in Croatia.

PARLIAMENT SUSPENDED

BELGRADE, Jugoslavia, Jan. 7.—King Alexander was virtually dictator of Jugoslavia today, having suspended the constitution and named a non-party Government of military stamp, after a futile attempt to reconcile strong party and racial antagonism with which the parliamentary regime has been split since last June.

The King announced that all laws would remain in force until suspended by decree. New laws would be made by decree. The royal order did away with the constitution which the turbulent kingdom of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes has adhered to since June, 1921.

General Peter Zivkovitch was named Premier and took the interior portfolio as being the minister responsible for the administration of law and order, under the extraordinary regime.

The drastic action of the King created a sensation throughout the country, but no disturbances occurred.

The Croats seemed to welcome the King's move heartily.

STORY OF CEMENT TOLD ROUND TABLE

Mr. Edwin Tomlin Speaks on Subject of Importance to Modern Industry

Mr. Edwin Tomlin, managing director of the British Columbia Cement Company was the speaker at the fortnightly dinner of the Knights of the Round Table, held in the main dining-room of the Empress Hotel last night. Mr. P. Phillips, Deputy Minister of Public Works, occupied the chair and introduced the speaker who, he said, was an authority very well qualified to address the members upon this subject.

Mr. Tomlin, in a fascinating speech, which would have been understandable and interesting to the veriest layman, outlined the history of the use of cement from its inception. Mr. R. P. Butchart, he said, started his business, which has since been the means of enjoyment to so many people, with a little thirty-foot kiln. The industry, continued the speaker, was still very much in its infancy in Canada, and this was due to lack of population. "If there is one reason," he said, "why I should like to live another fifty years, it would be to see the mighty development of the Dominion in the cement industry during that time."

The United States, said Mr. Tomlin, with their one hundred and fifty cement plants, are manufacturing 165,000,000 barrels of cement every year. Great Britain, with her forty plants, is turning out 20,000,000 barrels of the same product. In Canada we have now a yearly output of 10,000,000 barrels which, with a population of some ten millions, works out at approximately one barrel of cement per person per year.

The uses of cement, he concluded, were legion, and spread from the building of a drydock to the stopping of rat holes. For the production of such a cheap article there was probably no parallel in the matter of capital outlay, and the tremendous hazard of having so much capital tied up would become obvious should the country strike any really bad period.

Don't Let That Cold Turn Into "Flu"

That cold may turn into "Flu," Grippe or, even worse, Pneumonia, unless you take care of it at once.

Rub Musterole on the congested parts and see how quickly it brings relief as effectively as the messy old mustard plaster.

Musterole, made from pure oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other simple ingredients, is a counter-irritant which stimulates circulation and helps break up the cold.

You will feel a warm tingle as it enters the pores, then a cooling sensation that brings welcome relief.

How I Was Freed of Hemorrhoids

after 25 years of suffering

"I had protruding piles or hemorrhoids for over twenty-five years," writes Dr. H. S. Hussell, Graduate Veterinary Surgeon, of Upper Chaslo, N.B. "I bought medicines from all parts of the world and went under the knife twice—at Partland, Maine, and Sherbrooke, Que. I had spent hundreds of dollars and was about to go to the hospital at Campbellton, N.B., for another operation, but was in such a weakened condition that the doctor advised me to wait a few days.

"My wife happened to pick up Dr. Chase's Almanac and read about someone being freed of piles by using Dr. Chase's Ointment. I got a box, was so much better next day that I ordered three more boxes. In one week I was able to resume my practice. It is now four years since I have felt any effect of the piles, so I feel justified in believing the relief permanent."

Dr. Chase's Ointment is the standard, time-proven treatment for piles or hemorrhoids. Dr. Hussell's experience is similar to that of many thousands of people who have been positively freed of piles by this soothing, healing, antiseptic ointment. All dealers, or The Dr. A. W. WAR VETERANS APPOINTED TO HIGH POSITION

Mr. R. H. M. Temple and Mr. Alistair Fraser Promoted by C.N.R. to Be Heads of Legal Staff

BOTH SERVED IN CANADIAN FORCES

MONTREAL, Jan. 7.—With the approval of Sir Henry Thornton, chairman and president of the Canadian National Railways, Gerard Ruel, vice-president of legal affairs, has issued the following circular:

"Consequent upon the regretted demise of William Craig Chisholm (formerly general counsel), who was an officer of unusual ability, of sterling worth, and a universal favorite, the following changes in staff are made, taking effect immediately:

"Reginald H. M. Temple, formerly assistant general counsel, is promoted to the position of general counsel; Alistair Frazer, K.C., formerly commission counsel, is made assistant general counsel. The position of commission counsel is abolished.

"Mr Temple is a native of Toronto. On the occasion of the outbreak of the South African War he enlisted with the first Canadian contingent under the then Colonel Otter. He served in various capacities and was afterwards commissioner of the Heidelberg district. Mr Temple was awarded the South African medal and four bars.

"Major Alistair Frazer, M.C., K.C., was born at New Glasgow and is a son of Hon. D. C. Frazer, former Lieutenant-Governor of Nova Scotia. Mr. Frazer was called to the bar in 1911, and created King's counsel in 1921. He enlisted at the outbreak of the war in 1914 and served with the 17th Battalion, the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, and in the 15th Battalion, and on recovering from a wound was afterwards appointed A.D.C. to General Sir Arthur Currie, commander of the Canadian Corps. In 1919 he was appointed general solicitor to the Canadian National Railways and commission counsel in 1923. Mr. Frazer will continue to deal with commission matters."

Cardinal Dies; Eight Vacancies Now in College

MILAN, Italy, Jan. 7.—Cardinal Tosi, Archbishop of Milan, died at 2.45 a.m. today. He was sixty-five years old and succeeded the present Pope as Archbishop of Milan.

ROME, Jan. 7.—An unprecedented situation in the Sacred College was created today by the death of Cardinal Tosi, Archbishop of Milan. For the first time since the so-called Babylonian captivity — when the Popes lived at Avignon in the fourteenth century—the Italian cardinals are in a minority of four.

There are now twenty-nine Italian cardinals, thirty-three others, and eight vacancies. This makes it practically certain that the Pope will bestow several red hats at the Spring consistory.

FIRE WARDENS TO CONSIDER WAGES

Firemen Ask for Increase in Wages—City Hall Officials Deny Move for Blanket Raise in Salary

The application from the local branch of the Fire Fighters' Union for an increase in salary was referred to the fire wardens by the City Council last night.

The union, in its communication to the council, asked that the members' wages be placed on the same scale as in Vancouver and other Coast cities.

As yet the police have made no application for an increase in salaries, the association not having yet discussed the matter. City Hall officials deny any move on the part of their association to ask the council for an upward revision in salaries. The usual course followed in past years, that of recommending certain employees to a raise, will be followed again this year.

SEEK TO ADJUST TRAFFIC PROBLEM

P.G.E. Connection in North Vancouver Forms Subject of Conference

Premier Tolmie and Hon. N. S. Lougheed, Minister of Public Works, were absent from the city yesterday. They were in Vancouver, where the matter of affording North Vancouver redress following the condemning of bridges on the Whytecliff section of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway was under discussion.

With the condemning of the bridges as unsafe traffic was cut off of necessity, and following that there has been an outcry by the municipality of North Vancouver. Conferences were held with Mr. Lougheed on Saturday in the hope that the Government might afford some redress in the matter of wagon roads to take the place of the railway line.

Dr. Tolmie went over to the Mainland Sunday night to be present at further considerations of the subject.

The Premier and Mr. Lougheed will return to the capital this morning. The Government will be in executive council for a part of the day, and will receive a delegation representing the provincial command of the Canadian Legion, which will present certain proposals which it has before the members of the Government affecting returned men in general.

CANBERRA, Australia, Jan. 7.—The Australian Government has decided to scrap the Australian light cruiser Sydney, which was laid down in 1912.

The Sydney became famous during the war when she sank the German raider Emden, which had sunk fifteen merchant vessels off the East Indies.

NOVA SCOTIAN LEADER DIES

MR. GEORGE H. MURRAY DIES IN MONTREAL — WILL BE BURIED IN N. SYDNEY

Held Office as Undefeated Premier of Province for More Than Twenty-Six Years

MONTREAL, Jan. 7.—George H Murray, whose record-breaking period in office as Premier and leader of the Liberal party in Nova Scotia ended only on his voluntary retirement in 1923, died at 8:30 o'clock last night at his Montreal residence. He had been ill only three days with pneumonia.

Former Premier Murray, who held that office in Nova Scotia, from 1896 till 1923, was in his sixty-eighth year. Shortly after resigning from the Nova Scotia Government and his seat for Victoria County, which he had held throughout his long tenure of office, Mr. Murray came to Montreal, where he established a permanent residence. During the latter year of his occupancy of the Premiership he suffered a severe illness which resulted in the loss of a leg. During his residence in Montreal Mr. Murray had lived in retirement so far as business was concerned, but remained extremely active physically and maintained an active interest in all public affairs, particularly those of his native province.

The funeral service will be held at the residence tomorrow afternoon and the remains will then be conveyed to North Sydney, N.S., where the final rites will be held Thursday.

HIS LIFE

He was born at Grand Narrows, Cape Breton, on June 7, 1861. His father was William M. Murray, who sent George to the common schools at Sydney Mines and Sydney, where at the age of fourteen he obtained a teacher's licence. Young Murray took up the study of law, completing his course at the Boston Law School before he reached his majority. Returning to Cape Breton, he practised his profession for some years. In 1895 he was created a Queen's Counsel.

He married Grace E. Moors, of North Sydney, in 1889. They had three sons, Wilfrid Laurier, Hugh Allen and George Belcher Murray. Hugh is an invalid. Wilfrid and George went overseas when the Great War broke out and distinguished themselves in the army.

AS PREMIER

Hon. George H. Murray became Premier of Nova Scotia July 20, 1896, succeeding in that post Hon W. S. Fielding, who went to Ottawa as Minister of Finance in the Laurier administration. He spent twenty-six years and five months at the head of the Liberal Government in his native province.

When Mr. Murray resigned January 23, 1923, he was succeeded as Premier by Hon. E. H. Armstrong, who had been Minister of Public Works and Mines.

The regard of the Government and the people of the province for the old political chieftain had been demonstrated by the passage of an act providing that on his retirement his official stipend of $5,000 should continue to be paid.

LOCAL MAN TAKES "HUSKY" AND GAS LEAVES STOMACH

"This Medicine Will Save Much Suffering and Money for Anyone With Stomach Trouble or Indigestion," He Says

BERT HARVEY

"I had so much gas in me that my stomach hurt and I couldn't bear to eat enough food to give me strength," said Bert Harvey, well known automobile mechanic, who lives at 2547 Blanshard Street, this city.

"What I did eat," he said, "disagreed with me and made the gas so much worse that my stomach would swell and pain me severely. I became constipated, my tongue was coated and I felt so weak and run down I could hardly keep going.

"After using Husky a short time the gas left my stomach and now I can eat anything I want to without having a bit of gas or pain in my stomach. Husky has built up my strength and put weight on me. My bowels are regular, my tongue and complexion have cleared up and I feel just fine. This medicine will save a lot of suffering and money for people who have stomach trouble and indigestion. I wish I had found it sooner."

When you take Husky, you free your system of its oversupply of acidity, which is the cause of so much indigestion. These acids irritate your stomach, sour your food, fill you with gas and constipate you. Begin Husky today and see how soon your food tastes better and digests without a bit of discomfort. Constipation will leave and you will get strength from what you eat. The MacFarlane Drug Co., and other good drug stores everywhere always have Husky. (Advt.)

Minister Looks For Prosperity In Present Year

In the New Year edition of The Financial Times, published in the city of Vancouver, a message of a most optimistic character appears over the signature of the Minister of Finance, Hon. W. C. Shelly. The message is as follows:

"For British Columbia 1929 ushers in a remarkable era of justifiable optimism and confidence—the biggest era of expansion that this fair province of the Pacific has ever known. It requires no extraordinary powers of prophetic vision to realize that a development will take place such as to shade completely any previously undertaken. These optimistic expectations are not based on generalities or fanciful idle dreams—the stern reality of an increasing volume of business and growing prosperity is a sufficient index of the actual business situation for any business man. Viewed from almost any angle this eminently satisfactory state of affairs is obvious, but probably the most reliable barometer of British Columbian industry and commerce is to be found in the condition of her four basic industries — lumber, agriculture, mines and fisheries.

"For example, in our most important lumber industry, production is up 10 per cent, and it is more than likely that its value will not only equal but surpass the $83,000,000 of last year, in spite of lower prices.

"Agriculture, too, presents agreeably surprising statistics, being now the second industry, with an estimated output of $79,020,000 for 1928, exceeding by over two million the figures for the previous year.

"In minerals there is a gain in 1928 of just short of $4,000,000 over 1927, and a record tonnage production.

"Fisheries also showed an increase of slightly over $1,000,000 compared with the year immediately preceding.

"Another tremendous asset to British Columbia has been the capitalization of her unique and splendid attractiveness as a Mecca for tourists from all parts of the world, a fact which has caused the tourist trade to become one of the greatest sources of revenue to this province.

"If the foregoing were not adequate to convince any possible skeptic, a detailed examination of building figures, bank clearings, pay rolls, retail business, or any other gauge of prosperity, will assuredly do so.

"And what of the future—of 1929? As far as human agency can foresee, each of the four basic business operations should exceed, during the ensuing twelve months, the figures for 1928, and there is a pronounced probability, nay, almost a certainty that this year will mark the beginning of a period of expansion in comparison with which previous similar periods will pale into insignificance. Even now capital, in gratifying volume, is pouring into the province for the upbuilding of her industries, into new manufactories, into transportation and shipping, into new mines and into scientific agriculture, and an impressively large part of Canada's overseas trade is moving through our ports.

"British Columbia, enters 1929 with justifiable optimism, with courage and with preparedness successfully to take advantage of the business opportunities which the year will offer. Fortunately, the larger element of uncertainty which lately prevailed in public affairs, is past, there is a new feeling of stability and confidence in business and financial circles both within and outside the province as to the prospects of Canada's Pacific Gateway. In this spirit of profound faith in a wonderful destiny for our province, British Columbians can gladly welcome the 'Dawn of a Glorious Tomorrow.'

"W. C. SHELLY.
Minister of Finance and Industries."

"Did you hear what happened to Jones?"

"No, do tell."

"He got drunk in Venice and tried to lie down in the gutter."

UNEMPLOYED MINERS

The offer of the British Government to subscribe pound for pound with the amount raised by public subscription for the relief of unemployed miners in Britain, and the appeal of the Prince of Wales for such relief are already having a notable effect. The movement for relief has gathered strength, has been co-ordinated and there is now a general understanding of the hardships that are being endured, and a really cumulative effort being made to meet the problem. It can be said on behalf of the miners that they are displaying undoubted fortitude in their distress. A suggestion has been made that a fund should be raised in Canada. Far and away the best plan would be for efforts to be made to see what could be done to find employment for such miners as would emigrate to this country. That would be the more practical way of helping, and both in the mines of Canada and in other branches of endeavor there is no reason why some systematic and permanent relief should not be found for those who have been the victims of unfortunate conditions in Britain.

Here is the situation in the coal mining areas as described by The London Times. That newspaper says: "Relief must be given. It must not be small in amount, nor delayed in arrival, nor limited in duration. The failure of a large section of the mining industry is not like the partial failure of a harvest. If a harvest fail the land will still repay retilling, and the population, if maintained for a season, will enjoy the fruits of its industry again in succeeding years. In the mining areas the depression has struck death blows to this mine and to that, until a number of workers, that may reach 250,000, are without hope of a future livelihood from mining and there is permanent devastation. That is why the measures for relief must provide not merely for the acute distress of today but for the continued needs of many months to come."

What the Government is doing is conceived on a broad scale. It has appointed a Civil Service staff to administer the Lord Mayor's fund. That staff is engaged in co-ordinating all the agencies of relief and distribution. A member of the Cabinet is at the head of this organization. This staff recognizes that the greatest need of the miners is not charity, but the opportunity to re-establish themselves, "as independent and self-supporting citizens." In this particular the Ministry of Labor in Britain is assisting in arranging for schemes of transfer and of handy man training, and is also engaged in training those unemployed miners who desire lessons in agriculture. The experiment of bringing miners to Canada for the harvesting work is to be tried again this year, but this time the men sent will be instructed in the primary tasks of an agricultural laborer, which would argue that many of them, if the opportunities arise, will be willing to stay on in the Dominion as settlers.

According to the present arrangements the relief organization in Britain anticipates that within six months some 40,000 of the unemployed miners will be absorbed in other industries. That will mean, however, that some 200,000 will remain to be provided for by other measures. The appeal for relief will therefore remain very strong, and now that the circumstances have become known there should be some concerted effort by the people of this country, through their Governments, to find ways and means to absorb some portion of the unemployed miners of Britain. That, in the long run, will afford the most substantial relief that can be given. The men want jobs, not charity, and in this task every one of the Overseas Dominions should be able to assist.

REFORMS IN CEYLON

The Colonial Office has just published a report of the Commission appointed for the purpose of framing recommendations for the introduction of constitutional reforms in Ceylon. In Ceylon, as in India, not only is the population not homogeneous, but the diverse elements of which it is composed distrust and suspect each other. Social and caste prejudices, by denying equality of citizenship to large sections of the people, have condemned them to a position resembling that of depressed castes in India, and have closed to their children the educational opportunities which are open to those of higher castes. The one great contrast with Indian conditions is that in Ceylon there has been no Native State problem since the deposition of the King of Kandy in 1815. In Ceylon, as in India, there has been little industrial development, and the great mass of the population consists of rural workers whose social and economic conditions are dramatically contrasted with those of the upper stratum of the educated and Westernised classes.

Ceylon, owing to its small size and population, now roughly five millions, needs only a unitary form of government, but the conclusions and recommendations of the Ceylon Commission are pertinent and may serve as a useful model for the constitutions of the Indian Provincial Governments. Especially interesting to those who have watched events in India during the past ten years is the uncompromising rejection and condemnation of the system of communal representation—"a canker in the body politic, eating deeper and deeper into the vital energies of the people, breeding self-interest, suspicion and animosity, poisoning the new growth of political consciousness and effectively preventing the development of a national or corporate spirit."

The main reforms recommended are simple, drastic and courageous—the abolition of the Governor-General's Executive Council and the grant of complete control over internal administration to a territorially elected Council, which will perform executive as well as legislative functions. There will be adult suffrage for men and women, the latter at the age of thirty, with no property or literary qualifications. The Council will contain sixty-five elected members and a maximum of fifteen nominated members, of whom three will be officials and the remainder will be nominated by the Governor, if he should think nominations necessary in order to secure better representation of the interests of minorities. The Commission lays particular emphasis on the recommendation that "the Governor must have the unqualified right to refuse or reserve his assent, both in legislative and executive matters, to the decisions of the Council. He will be no longer personally responsible for the administration, but it will always be his duty to see that those on whom the responsibility is now to devolve do not infringe the principles enunciated in the Constitution. The position of the Governor will not be easy. The reconciliation of the claims of liberty and authority is always a difficult and delicate problem. It may be hoped, however, that a succession of Governors will be found who will know how to strike the happy mean between autocratic interference and timorous self-effacement.

MRS. CHARLOTTE TOWNSEND

A woman of a sweet disposition has died full of years in the passing of Mrs. Charlotte Louise Townsend, aged ninety-five, after a residence here of sixty-six years. The late Mrs. Townsend had a host of friends and her circle of acquaintances must have been large, because of her lengthy sojourn in our midst. Those who knew her always spoke of her with enthusiasm, not only because she was such an old-timer, but because, as well, of those characteristics which adorn womanhood and become tempered and mellowed with advancing years. Mrs. Townsend had the satisfaction before she died of seeing her name enrolled historically among the pioneer women of Vancouver Island. Her place in the list is richly deserved, as a citizen, a wife and a mother. The deepest sympathy of all who knew her and her family will go out to her surviving sons and daughters, her grandchildren and great grandchildren.

PRAISED BE THE SUN!

If, in a world where life is born from death,
And from the fate of dying none is free,
And the chief law is strife, and every breath
Of men and beast and bird and fish and tree
Is daily drawn in dissolution's doubt;
If, in a world like this, there can be one
Among the rounding shows to single out
For song of praise—then will I praise the Sun!
The Sun, the Sun! Though it can deserts make,
And light its lanterns in their windswept bones;
I praise the Sun, that doth with glamor flake
The flowering meadows and the very stones,
That can the world transfigure to my eye,
And warm to substance all that shadows by Praising I live; and, when I foundered be,
O thou, beloved sunlight, cover me!
—John Galsworthy, in The London Times.

GOD SAVE THE KING

God save the King! His peoples plead
With the old words in urgent need—
Accustomed words, so brief, so few,
Today heart-searching, potent, new
Of Thy great mercy, Lord, make speed
To save our gracious King, give heed
While for his life we intercede,
Uphold him and with strength endue.
God save the King!

Diverse we are in race and creed,
Now in one common prayer agreed—
Our common love we hardly knew
To his great office greatly true,
He holds our hearts, he reigns indeed.
God save the King!
Isabel Adami, in The London Times.

THE PRESENCE

Did you ever tramp in the hills at night,
Alone, through the frosted snow,
When the white heights shone with a ghostly light
In the cold, dim starlight glow?

Did you often stop; did you glance around,
Did your spine go cold and queer?
Did you strain your ears and expect the sound
Of another's footsteps near?

Can it be that the hills' Creator drifts
Down here, to the heights at night,
And rises again when the darkness lifts,
Like mist in the morning light?
—Ian Wood, in Chambers' Journal

Note and Comment
By R. B. D.

A few weeks ago we told a story with a moral in it for the younger lads and the youngest lasses under the despotic rule of the City Editor. If the budding and the blooming journalists in the other departments read that story they probably scoffed and sniffed at both it and the moral supposed to be annexed to it, for they are quite as joyous and care free and irresponsible as ever. We were tempted to say as idle and indolent as ever; but we shall not say such things for fear of giving offence, for the young lads and the younger lasses are not to blame for their outlook upon life and their views upon the subject of the honorable profession of journalism; they are solid and visible and active emblems of the signs of the times, that is all.

The story we told was printed for the purpose of supporting the theory of a great editor of other days that a newspaper story may be picked up on every doorstep. We picked up a story on a street corner and told it, as we thought, for the purpose of confounding the theories of the young lads and the younger lasses in the other rooms who seem to think that they have discharged their duties when they have picked up and told the stories they are instructed to go out and pick up and come in and tell. Today we are going to tell another story, which we hope may prove interesting to common people as well as to budding and blooming and rising young journalists.

Many years ago, so many years ago that the average newspaper man of the present day cannot have any recollection of it, there was a young man in the City of Toronto who was ambitious to become a journalist. This ambitious young man was also an industrious young man. He was studying the art of shorthand writing, the intricate art the practice of which nearly drove David Copperfield and all his household (including Mr. Dick) to distraction. Wherever this industrious and ambitious young man went he carried his notebook in his pocket, and if he heard anybody say anything worthy of note he pulled his notebook from his pocket and made a note of it in shorthand. In company with his notebook he attended church services and made notes of the sermons.

It is said there is a tide in the affairs of men which if taken at the flood leads on to fortune. That tide is no respecter of persons. It may be caught at the flood by rising young journalists as well as by persons of the lower orders. One Sunday the reporter, with his notebook in his pocket, dropped into one of the principal churches in Toronto and began to take down the sermon of the minister. As the discourse proceeded the reporter realised that the sermon, like the preacher, was out of the common order. After the young man had "extended" the notes he had taken he began to think that the job he had begun for practice might possibly be finished with profit.

The written copy of that sermon was laid before the editor of The Toronto Globe, who read it and refused to publish it. The preacher of the sermon was a well-known and extremely popular Presbyterian; The Toronto Globe was first established as a Presbyterian weekly journal, and its readers were still largely Scotch in nationality and Presbyterian in religion. The rejected manuscript was sent to The Montreal Witness, and that paper printed it.

Then there was an ecclesiastical explosion, the sound of which reverberated from one end of Canada to the other. A charge of heresy was laid against Rev. D. J. Macdonnell, minister of New St. Andrew's Church, but the prosecution failed to establish its case, the accused preacher was acquitted, and remained for many years the pastor of a large and wealthy congregation.

* * *

Both the preacher and the reporter became famous, one in a large circle, the other in a comparatively small journalistic circle. That story, picked up at random, culminated in the most famous heresy case in the history of Canada. We have heard it called the most infamous heresy case in the history of Canada, for the strain of it is said to have undermined the physical constitution of an eminent and good man and resulted in his premature death.

* * *

In the case of the budding reporter if it did not lead on to fortune, it led on to a pleasant and congenial occupation and to eventual retirement on a competence. The reporter was Mr. Albert Horton, for many years on the staff of Hansard, the journal which records the proceedings of the Canadian House of Commons and Senate, who has laid down his pencil, put away his notebook, and made way for the promotion of some other shorthand writers who are equally diligent in their business and know good stories may be picked up on door steps, on street corners, in the pews of churches, and in many other unexpected places.

MORE FASCINATING THAN FABLE

SNOWFLAKES

There are snowflakes in Summer as well as in Winter, only in the Summer time they hang suspended high in thick white clouds, and in Winter when it is not too warm nor yet too cold, they fall and make good sleighing.

If they should begin to fall in Summer, they would melt before they reached the earth. So there they stay in certain distant puffy clouds, which are clusters of whirling snowflakes. If one were nearer they would seem like soft giant mists of snow.

On quiet Winter days, when the snowflakes fall thickly and lazily and seem sturdier than usual, one can see quite plainly of what delicate patterns they are made—and no two are just alike.

In only one way are they similar. Each one is a little six-pointed star of lace. Let them fall on a black cloth and look at them with a magnifying glass. The big flakes, you will see, are these little crystals, melted and stuck together. But if you can get a little one which is neither bruised nor melted, you will see that it is an exquisite six-pointed star.

Snowflakes are not frozen rain, as most people believe. Hail is that. And hail looks very much like frozen raindrops. Snowflakes are crystallized mist, gauzy bits of fog made into all of the patterns and more, that men can dream of.

What happens is this. The air soaks up all the moisture that it can from lakes and rivers and swamps. One cannot see, except very rarely, that this happens, but it does. Particularly when the air is hot, it acts something like a sponge. Then, when it cools again, the fine mist suspended in it, cools, too, and like steam from the teakettle, it turns to water and falls splashingly back to earth in raindrops.

But if it cools very suddenly, it freezes as it is, instead of turning into water—and then there are snowflakes instead of rain. And so it only snows when it is neither too cold nor too warm. For if it is too warm the crystallised mist will melt before it reaches us, though it started to snow, and if it is too very cold, it does not fall at all.

WINTER LOVE SONG

In the Summer, roses
Thoughts of love impart,
And each bud discloses
Something of my heart.

But when Summer passes,
Though her glory wanes
With the fading grasses
Changeless, love remains.

Garden ways are lovely,
North wind roars and whines;
Now my song is only
Of the steadfast pines.

Naught to them the going
Of earth's sun and song,
Cruel north wind blowing,
Cheerless nights and long.

Though the snowflakes drifted
On their branches cling
Yet their boughs are lifted,
Verdant as in Spring.

Pines in Winter weather
Lift green banners still,
And love blossoms another
Life be kind or chill.

Jots From History

Hernando Cortes, the cruel and unrelenting Spanish explorer of the 16th century, landed on the shores of Mexico in 1518 to conquer the country for his king. He burned his ships so that none of his 700 men could hope to regain Spain without a complete victory. Cortez seized Montezuma, the Mexican king, and thereafter followed one of the bloodiest times in the history of the Americas. Cortes was victorious, but upon returning to Spain found himself neglected and he died of a broken heart in 1547.

LEAGUE SEEKS MORE SUPPORT

DOMINION PRESIDENT IS EXPECTED TO VISIT NAVY LEAGUE BRANCH HERE

Membership Has Diminished, and Officers Desire Wider Measure of Interest

The Navy League Branch in Victoria is expecting a visit from Mr. Samuel Harris, of Toronto, the Dominion president, when the annual meeting is held next month.

The branch is continuing its assistance in the training of boys in the mercantile service, which is one of the phases in which it is best known to the public.

The membership is not as large as the officers feel should be the case in a seaport, particularly when there are so many naval veterans resident here, and it is probable that an appeal for members will be made, according to Captain E. G. Alcock, the secretary. It is a long time since any general appeal has been made for membership.

Some years ago the Navy League had one of the most aggressive branches in Canada in this port, and the Trafalgar Day demonstrations were among the principal gatherings each Fall, but with the coming of peace there has been a marked falling off of support, as has been evidenced by smaller collections on annual tag days here.

DR. MacLEAN IS TO RESIDE IN OTTAWA

OTTAWA, Jan. 7.—Dr. J. D. MacLean, newly-appointed chairman of the Farms Loans Board, which will work with the various provinces of Canada to assist settlers of the soil throughout the Dominion, arrived in Ottawa today from Victoria.

Dr. MacLean, formerly Premier of British Columbia, will reside in Ottawa in future.

West Vancouver May Drop P.G.E. Claims

VANCOUVER, Jan. 7.—Premier S. F. Tolmie came to Vancouver this morning and summoned his fellow directors of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway to meet him in the Hotel Vancouver. The meeting is a sequel to the conference held Saturday between Hon. N. S. Lougheed, Minister of Public Works and the reeve and council of West Vancouver.

It was indicated Saturday that Mr. Lougheed had made proposals in behalf of the Government as compensation to West Vancouver for the loss of the P.G.E. service, shut down a few weeks ago. West Vancouver holds a contract with the P.G.E. for a service of eighteen trains a day, and is demanding fulfilment of the contract. The Government is making counter-proposals which are to be considered by the council at a meeting tonight.

The counter-proposals, it is believed, are for Government expenditures on roads in the municipality.

COUNCIL WOULD BANISH DAIRIES

Public Works Committee to Report Weds and Means of Centralizing With Cow Grazing

Abolition of dairies in the city will be considered by the public works committee, following another complaint from residents of cows grazing upon vacant property and creating a general nuisance, not only to residents but to motorists.

Alderman William Marchant said he did not believe the council had the power to drive dairies from the city, but that dairies could be forced to locate outside the city if a by-law were drafted making it illegal to graze cows within 100 feet of a house. This, he pointed out, would place dairymen in the position of finding grazing areas for their cows to comply with the regulations.

The public works committee was asked to report on the matter for the meantime the police commission will be asked to see that regulations applying to dairies within the city, particularly with reference to cows grazing on other people's land, be enforced.

MRS. W. BAYLIS HAD LONG RESIDED IN MANITOBA AND B.C.

Mrs. Therese Mary Agnes Baylis died early yesterday morning at St. Joseph's Hospital, at the age of sixty-four. She was the wife of Mr. William Baylis, 1703 Fairfield Road.

A native of Cork, Ireland, daughter of the late John and Eleanor Willis, of Charleville, Mrs. Baylis came to Canada in 1880 with her husband. They settled at Lake Dauphin, Manitoba, living there for several years, and later taking up residence successively in Moose Jaw and Winnipeg. There Mr. Baylis was manager of the Manitoba and Commercial Clubs, and he was also connected with the Canadian Pacific Railway.

She is survived by her husband one son, Frank, residing at 330 Robertson Street; a daughter Mary, wife of Commander Nankivell, in England; two sisters in England one brother in the United States, an uncle, Edmund Ryman, in Charleville, Ireland, and uncle, Sir John Scott, in Ireland; five grandchildren and nephews and nieces.

The funeral will be held from the Sands Funeral Chapel on Thursday at 2.45, proceeding to Our Lady of Lourdes Church, the Willows, for services at 3 a.m. Interment will be made in Ross Bay Cemetery.

There are sixteen in the party all from the distressed areas of Northern England. Four of the boys have previously worked as miners, and the others who are sons of miners, have worked as page messengers, bus conductors and general laborers.

The party, which is traveling under Canadian Pacific auspices, will go to the British Immigration and Colonization Association in Montreal for placement on farms in Canada.

PIONEER RESIDENT CAME IN 'SIXTIES

Mrs. Charlotte Louise Townsend Died Here Yesterday in Her Ninety-Sixth Year

MRS. A. A. TOWNSEND

Since the publication of the history of "The Pioneer Women of Vancouver Island," a second number of the picturesque book whose histories are touched on therein, has passed away in the person of Mrs. A. A. Townsend, who died yesterday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. T. C. Hubbard, 137 Clarence Street. Mrs. Townsend, who celebrated her ninety-fifth birthday just a month ago, was one of those invited to the tea given at Government House some weeks ago, in honor of the pioneer women of Vancouver Island who were still living but she was in such indifferent health at the time that it was impossible for her to attend. She had gradually grown weaker, and the end came quite peacefully.

One of the oldest and most respected of Victoria's pioneer women, Mrs. Townsend's connections with this city date back to the early seventies to 1862, she and her sister, Mrs. Mallandaine (who predeceased her two or three years ago), coming as passengers on the famous "brigantine" Tynemouth. They were not, however, of the matrimonial party being cabin passengers who had left England to come to Victoria with the expectation of teaching. As brokers—on they were able to give many picturesque details of the party of sixty brides-to-be who formed the main cargo of the vessel. Among the specially prized possessions which the two sisters brought with them were their piano and a sewing machine, both rather rare in the colony in those days when sewing machines and pianos were not long before Mrs. Mallandaine's death, entertained guests at an informal party by playing a piano duet.

Mrs. Townsend's was one of the earlier weddings celebrated at old St. John's Church, hers taking place some time before her sister's to Mr. Mallandaine. Except for a few months' separation after they first came to British Columbia in the early sixties, the sisters succeeded in living either together or close by one another for more than ninety years, Mrs. Mallandaine's death being the first real separation they had ever known during nine decades.

For the last thirty years Mrs. Townsend had lived with her daughter, Mrs. Hubbard, and during all the last she retained wonderful activity of mind as well as handknitting and needlework furnished her with constant pastime and occupation, and she never tired of making children's socks, caps and other little comforts for others. To numbers outside the family circle she was affectionately known as "Grandma."

In addition to her twin daughters, Mrs. T. C. Hubbard, Clarence Street, and Mrs. E. G. Younge, 1417 Vancouver Street, Mrs. Townsend is survived by two sons, Mr. A. O. Townsend, of Los Angeles, Cal., and Mr. Turner Townsend, of Dawson City, Yukon.

The funeral will take place at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from the B.C. Funeral Parlors.

MISS SUTHERLAND DIES

Second Daughter of Dr. W. H. Sutherland Succumbs to Spinal Meningitis

The announcement of the death of Miss Mary Sutherland, second daughter of Dr. W. H. Sutherland, former Minister of Public Works, came as a severe shock to her many friends in the city. Death occurred at St. Paul's Hospital, Vancouver, yesterday morning.

The body will arrive in Victoria today, the funeral being arranged to take place at 10.30 o'clock Wednesday morning from the family residence at 518 Pemberton Road. It will proceed to the Church of Our Lady of Lourdes at the Willows, where Rev. Father Buckley will conduct services.

She was in her eighteenth year. She was educated in the Monterey School and later in the Oak Bay High School and the Victoria College. In company with her sister, Miss Helen Sutherland, she had then proceeded to the University of British Columbia, where she was taking her arts course.

Ill health, however, interfered with the prosecution of her studies, and she remained at home in the hope of regaining her usual strength.

At Christmas time Dr Sutherland and his elder daughter and son went to Riverside to spend the holidays together, Miss Mary, however, was taken more seriously ill, and about three days after Christmas her father hurried to Vancouver with her in order to consult specialists It was found that she was suffering from spinal meningitis, which resulted in death about two weeks later.

Dr. Sutherland, the elder sister and her brother will accompany the remains from Vancouver today. The younger sister, Patricia, aged nine is with her auntie in Ottawa, having accompanied them East following the death of Mrs. Sutherland last July.

MEDICAL REPORT WELL RECEIVED

DR. J. S. McCALLUM, ESQUIMALT HEALTH OFFICER, PRESENTS ANNUAL REVIEW

Councillor T. Hadfield Recommends That Council Adopt Victoria Library Terms

That the Municipality of Esquimalt is a healthy district in which to live was clearly proven last night at the final meeting of the 1928 council, when Dr. J. S. McCallum, municipal health officer, presented his annual report. It showed that during the entire year only two cases of smallpox occurred, five cases of chickenpox, five cases of scarlet fever and five of tuberculosis. This summary, according to Dr. McCallum, is far below that of previous years. He stated that ten premises had been fumigated where contagious diseases had occurred, and twelve complaints were received regarding sanitation, which were investigated and adjusted. Three buildings were condemned and removed, due to insanitary conditions. Quarantine methods were instituted where contagious diseases had occurred and no undue spread of such diseases took place.

Supervision of the milk supply was maintained, and there was a distinct improvement in this regard, due largely to the standardization action of the Provincial Government in all districts. The keeping of goats was thoroughly investigated and a stricter supervision was maintained.

Inspection of schools throughout the district was regularly maintained, and from September, 1927, when the school year commenced, to July, 1928, not one case of contagious disease occurred among the children attending schools. Dr. McCallum said that this was a perfect record, and the municipality should be proud of it. For this, the school nurse should be given a great deal of credit for her continuous work in hygiene and constant check on sick and absent children. In closing his report, Dr. McCallum extended his thanks to the reeve and council for their hearty co-operation during the year.

Councillor Thomas Hadfield, chairman of the library committee, presented his report of the joint committee meeting held in December, regarding the adoption of the terms of the Victoria Library Board. Councillor Hadfield recommended that the council abide by the clauses set down by the library board and renew their contract for another year. The motion carried.

Trustees of Canteen Funds—The Provincial Government has named as trustees of the soldiers' canteen funds for the Province of British Columbia Hon. Mr. Justice D. A. Macdonald, Lieutenant-Colonel W. UNDER THE CLOCK

City Hall Activities in Brief

ELEVATOR BONDS

City Treasurer Edwin C. Smith has placed to the city's account at the Bank of Montreal $12,700 to meet interest payments due to holders of Panama Pacific Grain Terminals, Limited, bonds, which the city guaranteed both as to interest and principal. The elevator company some weeks ago made its payment to the city of the first six months' charge to the sinking fund, both as to interest and principal.

LEGISLATIVE OFFERS

An offer from Mr. Reginald Hayward, M.P.P., on behalf of the four city members, placing their services at the disposal of the city during the forthcoming session of the Legislature, was accepted by the council, as also was a similar offer from Mr. D. B. Plunkett, M.P., who will shortly leave for Ottawa to attend the session of the Dominion Legislature.

RAILWAY COMMISSION

Notice of the application from the Chamber of Commerce to the Board of Railway Commissioners for an interchange track on the industrial reserve, with several other minor applications, was given to the council by the Railway Board last night. The matter was referred to the industrial committee for report.

BEACH QUESTION

The recommendation from the Chamber of Commerce and Real Estate Board to the City Council that city beaches be cleaned up and incinerators for refuse be established at one or two of the more important beaches, was referred to the public works committee for report.

PARK PROPOSAL

The parks committee and city solicitor will report on the recommendation from the Real Estate Board and Chamber of Commerce that a refreshment pavilion be established at Beacon Hill Park, and that a daily band concert be held near the pavilion during the Summer months. A sketch of the proposed pavilion accompanied the recommendation. The pavilion would be semicircular in shape and face south. The solicitor will be asked to give his legal opinion on the question of a refreshment concession in the park.

TAG DAY REQUESTS

The annual recurrence of applications to hold tag days on the streets of Victoria has again started. Three applications were received by the City Council last night, all of which were referred to the finance committee with power to act. The applications were from the Victoria Seamen's Institute, the Municipal Chapter, I.O.D.E., and the Women's Auxiliary of the Jubilee Hospital.

WOOD DUMPING

Following the reading of a protest from the Green Lumber Company that firewood was being dumped on city-owned lots near their establishment, the City Council decided to abolish such practice by not renewing the lease of land for this purpose as agreements came to an end. The lumber company said it planned the construction of a new furniture showroom building and that the appearance of adjacent property with firewood scattered in all directions did not enhance the value of its location.

COLD STORAGE PLANT

The city engineer reported to the council last night that since construction was started on the cold storage plant at Ogden Point, an average of thirty-five men had been kept employed. The forms for the third floor were being built and the office building was nearing completion.

SHOPPING BY-LAW

The Shops Early Closing By-Law was tabled again until the next meeting of the council. Action in the matter is withheld until the recommendations from the retail merchants' group of the Chamber of Commerce and Retail Clerks' Association are received.

GARBAGE CONTRACT

"This proposal has a great deal of merit in it," declared Mayor Herbert Anscomb when the recommendation from the Chamber of Commerce and Real Estate Board was dealt with with reference to the city's garbage disposal. The recommendation was that a clause be placed in all future contracts for the dumping of garbage at sea, which would make the contracting company responsible for the dumping of garbage at so far from the port that it would not float back on the return tide and be thrown up on city beaches. The matter was referred to the public works committee.

FIRE PROTECTION

City Engineer F. M. Preston's report on the cost of carrying out improvements in the city's water system along the lines suggested by the fire underwriters in connection with the city's fight for lower insurance rates, was sent to the fire wardens for report. The cost of improvements would be over $2,000,000.

CHILDREN'S AID HOME

The need for more accommodation at the Children's Aid Home was stressed in a communication from the secretary of that society to the City Council last night. On a motion from Alderman James Adam, it was decided to lay the matter over until the next council meeting, and that during the intervening time every alderman should visit the home and see the conditions there for themselves.

NEW INDUSTRY

The proposal of Mr. Max Johnsen, of Seattle, that the city sell to him the Dallas Hotel for the sum of $250, for which he would establish a fish-packing plant, employing at the start not fewer than twenty women and five men, was referred to the industrial committee for report. Mr. Johnsen said that if his proposal was accepted he would reconstruct the building to have it in operation during the coming fishing season.

NEW FINANCING FOR HOSPITALS

State Health Insurance Looms Up at Council Meetings—City Council Receives Report

That state health insurance or some other means of financing hospitals will be taken up within the next few months in so far as the Royal Jubilee Hospital is concerned, was evidenced at last night's meeting of the City Council, and prior to that at the last meeting of the Saanich Council.

When the report from the Jubilee Hospital was received by the council, giving the cost of operating the hospital for each municipality, Alderman E. S. Woodward recommended that the report be referred to the finance committee, as new legislation might be needed under which to finance the hospital. His recommendation was adopted.

At the last meeting of the Saanich Council a report was received from the Jubilee Hospital as to the cost of service to that municipality by the institution. It was then generally agreed that some new way of spreading the cost of hospital work would have to be devised, particularly a scheme that would eliminate the indigent patient. Under the State Health Insurance scheme a certain portion of a person's wage would be set aside to take care of hospital service, much in the same way as the Workmen's Compensation Board carries out its work.

MR. BLACKALLER IS RE-ELECTED

Officers of British-Israel Association Are Chosen at Annual Meeting

At the annual meeting of the British-Israel Association, held in the British-Israel Hall, on Bastion Street, last night, Mr. W. H. Blackaller, who occupied the chair at the meeting, was re-elected president of the association, and Messrs. E. E. Richards, R. B. Price and W. Jennings were unanimously elected vice-presidents.

In his report upon the proceedings of last year, Mr. E. E. Richards said that insurance to the amount of $500 had been placed upon the furniture for the hall. He also mentioned that Mr. Blackaller would give an address next Monday upon his recent visit to England.

An interesting interposition was made by the Rev. C. M. Tate, who said that he had noticed in a recent publication of The British Sentinel, that the Prince of Wales had recently said the following words: "If I should be called upon to ascend the throne of England I should wish to be crowned as King David I."

"Mrs. Johnson, librarian to the association, in her report, said that the library of the association had only been opened last October, and that there were comparatively few books dealing with British-Israelite subjects upon the catalogue. Miss Stewart offered to lend the library a number of books, at present in her possession, and a considerable discussion took place, the basis of which was that as literature was such an important factor in the progress of the British-Israel cause, it might be better to eliminate any library subscription. Finally a motion, put forward by Rev. C. M. Tate, which provided that the annual fee should cover the library subscription, and that Mrs. Johnson, as librarian, should be empowered to accept voluntary donations, was unanimously passed.

It is understood that there will be a Dominion-wide convention of the British-Israel movement held in Winnipeg some time in May of this year.

Dramalogue Honors Venerable Member

A standing tribute to the late Mrs. Mouat, one of the original members of the dramalogue group at the time of its formation eight years ago, was given by present-day members immediately preceding the reading of "The Trial of Mary Dougan," at the Empress Hotel yesterday afternoon. Major Bullock-Webster's appreciation of Mrs. Mouat's enthusiasm and interest was eloquent though brief.

One of the biggest attendances on record was at the Dramalogue, the audience numbering 160. The parts were admirably cast, those taking part being as follows: Miss Agnew, diseur; Mrs. Squire, Mary Dougan; Jimmie Dougan, Capt. Birnie; Mrs. Charles Wilson, the widow; Mrs. Rice; Mrs. Franklin Frost, chorus girl; Mme. Halet, Marie du Cros; Frank Richardson, the judge; Captain Hugh Allen, lawyer for the defence; Major Bullock-Webster, district attorney; Mr. Percy Crump, all other men.

In the course of the afternoon Rev. Dr. Unsworth gave a brief appreciation of the dramalogue, in which he referred to the great interest and value of this form of drama study. Among those present were Mrs. A. W. Jones, Mrs. Arthur Gore, Mrs. Mouat, Mrs. C. P. Hill, Mrs. Roy Troup, Mrs. Elliott, Mrs. H. F. Crowe, Captain and Mrs. Ramsay, Miss Heisterman, Rev. Dr. Unsworth and Mrs. Unsworth, Mrs. Fleet Robertson, Mrs. Harry Davis, Mrs. Delves, Mrs. Tilton, Mrs. Walter, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Birnie, Mrs. Beavan, Comtesse de Susannet, Mrs. P. Crump, Miss Dorothy Crump, Mrs. Duncan Ross, Mrs. Stuart Robertson, Mrs. Gonnason, Mr. Walton and many others.

SURVEY OFFER TURNED DOWN

CITY COUNCIL SEES NO NEED AT PRESENT FOR SURVEY OF WATERWORKS

Mr. John Dean Proposes to Secure Estimate of Cost of Work to Plan Co-ordination of System

The City Council at its meeting last night declined the offer of Mr. John Dean to ascertain the cost of having a survey made of the city's waterworks system, with a view to co-ordination. In his communication to the Council last night he said that if given the information and maps that he asked for he would take the question up on his arrival in England and find out how much it would cost to have an English engineer survey the system.

Mayor Anscomb said he wished to make it clear that he had spoken to Mr. Dean and ascertained that all his proposal contained was an offer to secure an estimate of the cost of the work. Mr. Dean was to go no further than that.

"As far as I am concerned I am not opposed to any citizen obtaining that information for the city so long as it is at his own expense," he said.

Mr. Dean had offered to get the information at his own expense.

MOTION MADE

Alderman Mara suggested that Mr. Dean's offer be accepted and that he be supplied with the necessary data.

Alderman Harvey said he would not like it to go from the council meeting that "we have exhausted the knowledge of our own engineering department."

That it would not be fair to place English engineers to the expense of figuring out an estimate when the City Council was not seriously considering such a survey was the view taken by Alderman Woodward. The time had not yet arrived when the city wanted such a survey made. It was too busy at the present time reducing taxes and at present there was no need of such a survey.

OPPOSED TO PLAN

Alderman Marchant said Mr. Dean's scheme was so much in the visionary stage that it would be an injustice to ask engineers to go to the expense of giving estimates on such a survey. The other objection the alderman had to the proposal was that an English engineer be used. He felt that just as competent an engineer could be procured in Canada, probably an even more competent one for the work, than could be secured in England, inasmuch as hydraulic engineers in Canada were more familiar with forestry work and large irrigation projects.

Silk Fabrics Glorify Newest Slippers for Formal Wear

THE silken slipper is accorded marked favor for formal wear during the Winter. Crepe, moire and brocade in rich tones are chosen to exactly match the gown or to strike a sharply contrasting note in agreement with the fan and other accessories.

There is no special emphasis placed upon any particular model, it being a matter of personal preference whether one selects the opera pump, the slipper with very narrow strap or that widely strapped and ornately buckled.

Brocade slippers are lovely when worn with gowns of solid colors. A beautiful symphony in gold and brown is shown in a model with very wide strap of gold kid upon which is posed a topaz buckle which blends harmoniously with the brocade.

In more delicate gold tones is the second brocade slipper illustrated. A narrow collar of gold kid is artistically joined to the slender strap which is caught at the centre of the instep by a topaz buckle small in size.

Crepe is prominent among fabrics employed for evening slippers. Charming models are made up in white crepe which may be dyed to any tone desired. An interesting new leaf pattern opera pump of crepe is shown with unique inlays of gold and silver kid forming a decoration at the outer side.

The slipper of glistening white moire is alluring, and is no less so when tinted a pastel shade or dyed a vivid color. An appealing pump of white moire has a narrow collar of gold and silver strips which tie in a bowknot at the instep. There is no other decoration than this and it is most striking.

Mesh shoes are steadily increasig in popularity for wear with rich evening slippers. A new conceit is the nude stocking and the nude tinted slipper. This is a perfect complement to the gown so vivid that slippers to match would spoil the effect.

United Women's Guild

In the absence of the president, Mrs. A. S Christie, who was indisposed, First Vice-President Mrs. J. G. Brown presided at the annual meeting of the Woman's Guild of the First United Church, held in the guild room on Monday afternoon. Mrs. D. McKillop led the opening devotional exercises, after which gratifying annual reports showing the work done in the past twelve months were received, the financial balance being more than $11. The full staff of retiring officers were again elected by acclamation. These were, Mrs. A. S. Christie, president; Mrs J. G Brown, first vice-president; Mrs. I. A. Gould, second vice-president and press secretary; Mrs. H. M Wright, secretary, Mrs. G. W. Clark, treasurer; Mrs. Clemence, sick visitor for St. Joseph's Hospital, Mesdames Mutrie and McBride for the Jubilee Hospital. Arrangements were also considered for holding a tea and entertainment at the Aged Women's Home some time during the month when convenient for the matron and staff. Tea and refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by Mesdames Brown, Wright and McCallan.

INTENSE FROST IN SOUTH OF ENGLAND

Sanctuary for Game Set on Salt Spring

A game reserve is being created on Salt Spring Island, embrecing St. Mary's Lake and the surrounding areas. The reserve has been created by Order in Council. The lake is a favorite resort for wild ducks and the creation of the reserve is specially intended to preserve this type of game bird. The setting aside of the area, it is felt, will prevent the virtual wiping out of ducks on the island.

Burgess Bedtime Stories

Reddy Solves the Mystery

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Hooty the Owl isn't much given to curiosity. He had, quite by accident, discovered Peter Rabbit in Farmer Brown's dooryard. He had almost caught Peter. It was a bright moonlight night, just such a kind of night as Hooty loves for hunting. Peter had dodged and dodged again and then run straight for Farmer Brown's barn. There, just as Hooty was reaching for him with those great claws of his, Peter had mysteriously disappeared. It had seemed to Hooty as if Peter had vanished right through the solid wall of the barn. He had flown up on the little house of Bowser the Hound to think it over and there he had been found by Reddy Fox. You know, Reddy had been lying in wait for Peter.

Not for the world would Hooty have let Reddy know that he was puzzled by Peter's disappearance. All he would tell Reddy was that Peter had disappeared. Then, because he was hungry, and because he does not believe in sitting around worrying over disappointments, Hooty abruptly spread his great wings and flew away in the direction of the Green Forest. He flew directly over Reddy Fox, yet Reddy could hear no sound of those great wings. You know, Hooty is one of the few birds that can fly silently.

Reddy watched Hooty out of sight. Then he turned to consider the mystery of Peter Rabbit's disappearance. "I don't believe," said Reddy to himself, "that Hooty knows any more about it than I do. There is something queer about it. I think I'll look around a bit."

Reddy first went over to where he had seen Peter when Hooty the Owl first swooped at him. Then he turned and looked over toward the barn. "This is the direction," thought Reddy, "in which Peter went. It would bring him straight over to the barn. Then if he had kept on he would have come out right where I was hiding. If he had dodged out across the dooryard I should have seen him. Reddy began to run back and forth with his nose to the snow. Presently he caught a whiff of rabbit scent. Then he caught another. He had found Peter's trail. Swiftly he ran forward. Straight over to the barn the trail led him. Reddy ran fast. He was running close along the barn. Suddenly he stopped abruptly. He had lost the trail of Peter Rabbit. He no longer got that tantalising rabbit scent.

Reddy stepped back and sat down and stared very hard at that board.

He whirled around and started back, his nose close to the snow. Ah, there was that scent again! It ended right there, close to the barn, a little one side of the door. Reddy stared this way and stared that way. Where had Peter Rabbit gone? Once more he put his nose to the snow and sniffed of the side of the barn right where Peter's tracks ended. He put his nose against one of the boards of the barn. The board moved. It startled Reddy so that he jumped backward. But nothing happened. Then Reddy went forward again to examine that board. Again he put his nose against it and again it moved.

Reddy stepped back and sat down and stared very hard at that board. He had discovered what had become of Peter Rabbit. Peter was inside the barn. Yes, sir, that is where Peter was. That board that moved was nothing but a little light door that swung either way. It had been made for Black Pussy the Cat to go in and out of the barn. Somehow Peter Rabbit had discovered it, or had known it, and when Hooty had swooped at him he had darted through into the barn, pushing that little swinging door open.

To make sure, Reddy went over and pushed. The little door swung back, but the opening wasn't big enough for Reddy to pass through. He couldn't follow Peter into the barn.

Splendid Recipe To Stop A Cough That "Hangs On"

The best cough remedy that money could buy, can easily be made at home. It saves money and gives you the most reliable, quick acting medicine you ever used. The way it takes hold of stubborn coughs and chest colds, giving immediate relief, is astonishing.

Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a 16 oz. bottle, and fill up with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. It's no trouble at all to mix, and when you once use it, you will never be without it. Keeps perfectly and tastes good—children really like it.

It is surprising how quickly this home-made remedy loosens the germ-laden phlegm, and soothes and heals the inflamed membranes. At the same time, it is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes, and helps the system throw off the whole trouble. Even those severe coughs which usually follow the "flu", are promptly ended.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form. Nothing known in medicine is more helpful in cases of severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

Alderman Seeks Information on Use of Animals

Not satisfied with the answer received from the Jubilee Hospital in connection with a list of questions he had submitted with regard to vivisection, Alderman E. S. Woodward last night again instructed the council to ask the hospital for answers to the questions submitted to the board.

Alderman Woodward said the communication from the secretary said that no animals were used at the hospital. He had seen nearly 100 guinea pigs and rabbits housed at the hospital and would like to know what they were used for. He would also like to know how many experiments were carried out on animals, and get other information that the Anti-Vivisection Society of Victoria was interested in obtaining.

The hospital board again will be asked to provide this information.

An innovation of this season of innovations is the little cravat of fur worn with afternoon coats. The idea is as practical as it is smart, for the cravat is wrapped, stock-fashion, around the throat to keep Winter winds away.

CIVILIZED HABITS AND DISEASE

If savages are not diseased and civilized races are; and savages become diseased when they eat civilization's foods—as they do—we know civilization's foods cause disease

Dr Robt G. Jackson tells why in his 428 page book, "HOW TO BE ALWAYS WELL"; chiefly because civilization's foods are acid-forming and cause "acid blood."

We can live as disease-free as savages by eating natural, alkali-forming foods. All grain foods are acid-forming, except Roman Meal. It is richly alkali-forming, because one quarter flaxin.

Dr Jackson was dying at fifty from acidosis, but he lived for two years upon Roman Meal and became entirely well. Write for his uncooked Roman Meal recipe, also for his free booklet, "HOW TO KEEP WELL," to Robt. G. Jackson, M.D., 318 Vine Ave., Toronto (9), Ont. (Advt.)

The volcano Puyehus also was reported in eruption, and the inhabitants have asked immediate aid.

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF WAR APPROVES

Pay High Compliment to Great "Wings" Film Now Showing at Dominion.

The greatest compliment ever given to a motion picture company by the Untied States War Department has been bestowed upon Paramount for its war epic of the air, "Wings," which is now showing at the Dominion.

A memorial to cost $100,000 and dedicated to the famous Second Division will be erected in Washington. Because of their accuracy, still pictures from the photoplay are to be used as models in constructing the huge memorial.

Paremount constructed an exact duplicate of a sector of St. Mihiel in order to obtain the spectacular battle shots wheih climax "Wings," and these so impressed War Department officials that they asked permission of Jesse L. Lasky to model from the stills.

"Wings" was directed by William Wellman, who was a flyer in the famous Lafayette Escadrille. John Monk Saunders, an instructor in aviation during the war, wrote the story. The cast includes Clara Bow, Charles (Buddy) Rogers, Richard Arlen, Jobyna Ralston, Gary Cooper, Arlette Marchal, H. B. Walthall, Hedda Hopper, Claire McDowell, El Brendel and Gunboat Smith.

The Stage

Playhouse—The Parker Comedy Co. offer "It Can't Be Done."

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE "Night Life," a Tiffany Production, is the feature picture attraction now showing at the Playhouse Theatre. In the cast are such well known screen players as Alice Day, Johnny Harron, Eddie Gribbon, Walter Hiers, Lionel Braham, Kitty Barlow, Patricia Avery, Earl Metcalf, Archduke Leopold, Snitz Edwards, Violet Palmer, and Lydia Yeamans Titus. The picture was directed by George Archainbaud from the original story by Albert Shelby LeVino. "Night Life" is a dramatic story of life in Vienna before, during and after the great world war. The Parker Company, now commencing its seventh week at the Playhouse, will present one of the finest four-people shows ever written. The show is entitled "It Can't Be Done," each player having an equally important role. Tommy and Les will sing another of their popular doubles and each one of the cast will do a specialty number. This show promises to be a decided hit with the Playhouse patrons, and will do much toward the ever-increasing following that the Parker Company has built up.

CAPITOL THEATRE The gorgeously beautiful Billie Dove never appeared to better advantage than in "Adoration," her newest First National picture which is the present attraction at the Capitol Theatre. The story is by Lajos Biro, adapted and scenarised by Winifred Dunn and directed by Frank Lloyd, who recently made "The Divine Lady" starring Corinne Griffith. It deals with the plight of Russian Royalty and aristocracy following the revolution. They flee to Paris and there their destinies are worked out. The theme of jealousy forms the basis of the story and involves the lovely Princess Elena and her consort, Prince Serge, played by Antonio Moreno with great skill. On the stage are Permane and Selly, the well known comedy novelty artists; Danny and Edith Carter, a clever comic-song and dance team, and Bobby Wurms, a comedy violinist, who presents something a little different in the way of music. Al. Prescott and his stage band and Jack Reed round out the vaudeville bill which will be offered twice daily.

COLUMBIA THEATRE "The Battles of Coronel and the Falkland Islands," now showing at the Columbia Theatre, can justifiably be called a great and profoundly moving drama. There is always something about the spectacle of a sinking ship which touches the emotions, and in "The Battle of Coronel and the Falkland Islands" there were several such spectacles, rendered all the more tragic by the circumstance of war. Those who have not yet seen the film which reconstructs these battles may perhaps feel that a time when reconciliation between erstwhile foes is taking place, and the League of Nations is an established fact, such a production is injudicious but they will change their view after they have seen it.

COLISEUM THEATRE Sally Phipps, the charming feminine lead of "Why Sailors Go Wrong," the new Fox comedy now playing at the Coliseum Theatre for an engagement of one week, is an ardent student of ancient lore. This young lady who appears to be the very essence of modernism for some strange reason prefers books on history, for which she would pass up fiction at any time. Nick Stuart takes the part of a young lover in this picture and a great deal of the plentiful comedy is supplied by Sammy Cohen in the role of a misguided taxi driver.

"King of Kings" on Screen at Royal on Monday, January 14

Cecil B. DeMille, producer of "The Ten Commandments," "The Volga Boatman," "Adam's Rib" and many other great pictures, literally combed the fields of the professional theatres for great acting types to play the celebrated roles in the motion picture of the life and times of Christ, "The King of Kings," which will be on veiw at the Royal Victoria Theatre on Monday next for six days, matinees and evenings. Among those who will take part are the Anglo-American star, H. B. Warner, in the title role; the noted Central European favorites, Victor Varconi, Joseph and Rudolph Schildkraut, as Pilate, Judas and Caiaphas, respectively; Jacqueline Logan, niece of General John A. Logan, in the role of the Magdalene; Theodore Kosloff, celebrated Russian player, as Malchus; George Siegmann, of "The Birth of a Nation" fame, as Barabbas, Ernest Torrence, that delightful Scotchman who was Scout Jackson in "The Covered Wagan," as a wonderful St. Peter, Montague Love as the stern Roman Centurion, and William Boyd as Simon of Cyrene.

Skiing in Laurentians

NOT a country of wide open spaces but one of long white stretches where snow piles high against snake fences and is faint blue and sometimes gold upon the hillside. The Laurentians, north of Quebec, are a skier's paradise, and the week-end Mecca of the daring and the fair. It has come so now, that the Canadian Pacific must run ski specials from Montreal from one season's end to the other. The enthousiasts in ever-growing numbers take train to a given point and ski down to the next station or the ones beyond, as time permits or the spirit moves them. The trout streams are frozen, but the resort owners and the Habitant are beginning to count on the revenue they derive from the ski.

NEW PROGRAMME GOES ON CHAIN

The "Voice of Columbia" Comes to Pacific Coast Listeners Over A.B.C. Network Tonight

The "Voice of Columbia" programme will be heard in the West for the first time tonight, when stations of the A.B.C. Pacific Coast Network release this broadcast between 7 and 8 o'clock, Pacific standard time. This programme comes to the Coast through the mammoth new Columbia Broadcasting System Chain comprised of forty-two stations and reaching into every corner of the nation. The A.B.C. Network is the Western terminus of this giant system.

The programme will open with a speech of welcome by William S. Paley, president of the Columbia system, following which a group of well-known artists will be heard.

The first public rendition of Charles Wakefield Cadman's new song, "Our Little Dream," will be a feature of the programme. Olive Kline, nationally known concert and radio star, will sing this song before the microphones of the Columbia Broadcasting System in New York and Mr. Cadman will hear it across the continent, for he is now in California.

Other entertainers during the hour include Redferne Hollingshead, popular Eastern radio tenor, the United Symphony Orchestra, the United Choral Singers and the Rollickers Male Quartette.

PRAIRIE FARMERS IN FAVOR OF B.C. RATE REDUCTION

SASKATOON, Jan. 7.—The application on the part of British Columbia for lower freight rates on grain shipped to the Pacific Coast for domestic use is endorsed by the United Farmers of Canada, said Mr. W. M. Thrasher, secretary of the U.F.C., here today. He expressed the hope that the Coast province would be successful in obtaining its objective. While no specific data was at hand to show actual costs, reports received from various sources indicated that the prices paid by the British Columbia poultry and stock raiser were certainly very high.

Adventures in Arabia

By W. B. SEABROOK

CHAPTER III (Continued)

On a number of occasions I visited other hareemlik of the encampment, taking care, however, that I was always accompanied by Mitkhal or Mansour, since, after all, I was not of their own people.

A feminine custom of tattooing the chin was far from being universal with the women of the Beni Sakhr. Less than a third of them were tattooed, and very few wore the nose ring, which is common among the gypsy Bedouins.

Among the women, I never saw any apparel or trinkets of European origin or design. Their jewelry was always the heavy, handwrought native typye from the bazaars of Baghdad, Medina, or Damascus, usually silver.

It is true that the Bedouin women, even in the highly raced tribes, break early, in the sense that they loose their bloom and freshness, but they preserve their splendid, free carriage, often remain straight as lances, and do not run to fat. I saw more than one woman past forty, lean, straight, and with thin, finely chiseled features.

The common dress of the woman was a voluminous black woolen robe, even in midsummer, with black head-dresses of the same material, wound turban-wise. All of the well-to-do, however, had at least one robe of heavy red silk for special occasions, like that worn by Thirya when she came to Mitkhal for judgment.

Her visit, by the way, was the only occasion when I ever saw a woman in the mukhaad. Though wide open as all outdoors, always free of acess to every man of the tribe and to passing strangers, it was a sort of a "club" from which women and children were excluded by custom rather than rigid law.

A few of the women were pretty, one or two were real desert beauties, as full of flirtation as any New York flapper. And when I chanced to encounter them they delighted in kidding the farengi. They would ask how many wives I had left at home, and whether it wasn't high time I was choosing a Bedawi bride. Their wit was sparkling and equivocal.

Their freedom of word and gesture is based on the fact that among the highly raced Bedouins who adhere to the old desert law, all responsibility in pre-marriage contact between the sexes rests on the shoulders of the male. If an unmarried Bedouin girl is seduced, she is not punished; but the guilty man, and his two closest male relatives—if they can be found—so harsh is the code—are slain without recourse. Consequently flirtation and "petting" are common, and carried to lengths that no western girl would risk or dream of.

If a married woman is guilty of infidelity, however, the law is different. She is divorced, and sent under escort, a virtual prisoner, to the male head of her own family—usually father or brother. The men of her family sit in judgment, the role of the husband being that of accuser rather than judge, and if she is found guilty, she is immediately dragged outside the tent and her throat cut.

Another ancient law still actually enforced is that if a man spread evil report about a woman's virtue, and the report is found untrue, he is slain by the tribe.

Marriage, as in all Islam, is a civil contract rather then a sacrament. After signing the agreement, before witnesses, in the tent of the bride's parents, she mounts on the rump of the bridegroom's horse or camel, decked out in a red robe with silver bracelets and anklets—with gold coins braided in her hair, if she is rich—and he rides with her, in and out among the tents, until he has passed before them all, so that the whole tribe may be formally advised of the marriage.

If they are of sheikly condition, a small closed booth, its inner and outer walls gaily hung with rugs and tapestries, is pitched, either against the hareem wall of the husband's tent, or separately a few yards from it, and this is their bridal chamber for a month.

The marriage price, which may be much or little, is paid by the bridegroom to the bride's father, and she comes to her husband without dower or dot. He may divorce her at any time, but she has the like privilege of leaving him and going back to her parents if she is illtreated, and the husband has no power to compel her to return. If he can show, however, that she left him without just cause, he may demand that the marriage price be restored to him.

Love matches and freedom of choice on the girl's part are common among the Bedouins. It was told of Mitkhal's rich old father that after his beard was whitening, he sought in marriage the pretty fifteen-year-old daughter of one of his poorest warriors. The chit already in love with a youth of twenty, replied:

"The honor is too great for an humble girl like me. You are asking me to wear a robe in which are woven too many silver threads." (A reference to his white beard.) The sheik of sheiks was chagrined but not angry, and the girl's father did not coerce her, although the marriage would have brought him many camels.

The thing I liked best about the Bedouin women, from the personal contacts I had with them, was their good-humored impudence and wit.

One day I rode over the hills with Mitkhal to see a noted beauty of the Beni Hassan, Furja by name, who was, like Scheherazade, a famous narrator of tales. She had refused many offers of marriage, and on that very day there was in camp a rich young Moslem farmer-merchant of the Hauran, who had been vainly courting her.

He was a tall, hulking, and it seemed to me rather slow-witted Arab, who sat gloomily silent for a few moments after our arrival in the lady's rug-strewn hareem, and then betook himself to the mukhaad.

She was a real beauty, and a cruel flirt—a veritible "vampire" of the desert, aware of her powers, and skillfully bent on destroying the tranquility of every man who came within range of her charms. She wore a robe of black Damascus silk shot with gold. Broad silver bracelets encircled her forearms halfway to the elbow, and turquoise anklets with little bells and turquoise pendants tinkled when she wiggled her henna-pinkened toes.

Mitkhal had told me that she was "virtuous," lest I should misinterpret our reception, and she turned out indeed to be an outrageous comedienne. While we sat talking, a tottering old man, blear-eyed, bent and feeble—possibly a poor relation—came in and asked for food. To his evident astonishment, she leaped up, made much of him, and brought him a bowl of rice and meat with her own hands. As he sat in a corner mumbling it with his toothless gums, she said to Mitkhal, "How old would you suppose this man to be?" and he replied at a venture, "Eighty."

Whereupon she assumed a most doleful expression, and cried:

"Alas, alas, I meant only to give him happiness, but my beauty is accursed. This man, broken and bent, is younger in actual years then either of you! Only one year ago, he was straight as a lance, tall, strong and beautiful, the swiftest of our riders, and in his prime. May Allah, the Merciful, the Compassionate, forgive me."

MR. W. RUSSELL IS FOUND DEAD

MUNICIPAL CLERK OF COQUITLAM BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN MURDERED

Police Think Body Dragged to Water After Death—Former Victoria Resident

NEW WESTMINSTER, Jan. 7.—The body of Mr. William Russell, clerk of Coquitlam Municipality, was found lying on a boom of logs below the Imperial Oil Company, Ltd., gas station on the waterfront here at 9 o'clock this morning.

Police allege that the man was murdered somewhere away from the river, and that his body was taken in an auto or other vehicle and dragged to the river edge.

A medical examination revealed that he was killed by a bullet which entered his head behind one ear and left his skull behind the other ear.

Evidence revealed that the body was dragged to the edge of the wharf, then tossed away. It was believed intended that it should enter the water, but the body landed on the boom of logs close up to the wharf edge.

Mr. Russell, who resided with his wife and eight-year-old daughter at Fourth Street, New Westminster, had gone to his office in Maillardville on Sunday, and was expected home in the evening. He telephoned home from there but did not return, and Mrs. Russell waited up until about 4 a.m.

Born in Windsor, N.S., Mr. Russell came to this Coast about twenty-four years ago. His parents live in Toronto, and he is survived also by two sisters, one of whom is on the staff of the University of Toronto. His wife was Ella Cotton, daughter of the late A. P. Cotton, surveyor, here.

FORMERLY IN VICTORIA

For several years Mr. Russell was employed by the Bank of Montreal here and in Victoria. Later he was with the real estate firm of Malins & Coulthard here, and then for about eight years he was secretary at the Campbell River Lumber Company's mill in White Rock. He was appointed clerk of Coquitlam Municipality last year, succeeding Robert Newman.

Friends of the dead man state that he was a man of quiet habits, whose practices and dispositions were not apt to provoke animosity among his acquaintances. The news of his fate came as a tremendous shock to many Vancouver and New Westminster persons who knew him.

There are severe wounds on the back of his head, also over one ear. The face was covered with blood.

Police are unusually reticent regarding the murder. It is hinted that an arrest may occur quickly.

Inspired by the tango, the vogue of the concertina is returning in London.

58TH FIELD BATTERY ORDERS

There will be a parade at 8 p.m., Tuesday, January 8, 1929, at the Armories, Bay Street, of all members of the 58th Battery who are able to turn out to fire the salute at the opening of the Legislature. Those members of the battery who can turn out for the firing of the salute and have not yet drawn their uniforms will do so at the parade.

T. B. MONK, Major.

A QUICK TRANSFORMATION

Final Bid 1 N T Played by North

Salient Points of the Bidding

Refusal to Take Out No Trump With a Weak Five-Card Major

North, holding an extremely powerful hand protected in four suits, bids No Trump in preference to an introductory Minor. South, though holding five spades to the Ace-Jack, is not strong enough to take out.

Salient Points of the Play

Card Reading

Trick 1. East opens the stronger of his two four-card suits, leading his fourth-best, the 3 of Hearts. West, reading his partner with either four or five Hearts, plays the Queen rather than the Ace, a legitimate finesse against partner. Should West play the Ace and North hold the King and two others, North can hold off on the second round and West will be unable to put his partner in. North, ignorant of the position of the Ace, takes the trick with the King.

Tricks 2 and 3. The probabilities are that West holds but one more Spade which can only be the Queen, otherwise East must have held five and would have opened the suit. Therefore at Trick 3, Declarer declines the finesse and captures the Queen.

Tricks 4, 5 and 6. West discards three Clubs, electing to retain protection in Diamonds as well as two Hearts for his partner. Noting West's discards, East discards a Diamond at Trick 6.

Tricks 8 and 10. West unblocks Hearts and then is compelled to discard his remaining Heart to retain Diamond protection.

Even a thin layer of hard carbon

– as little as 1/32 of an inch – will cause you trouble now

Carbon deposited in huge quantities by ordinary oil is hard, flinty; it will scratch bearing metal under a finger's pressure!

The little carbon that Shell Motor Oil forms is soft, soot-like. Most of it blows away through the exhaust.

PRE-IGNITION knocking, power loss. Valves held open by carbon chips. Engine wear from gritty bits that grind through it. These are the troubles caused by carbon.

And the coming of high-compression motors has made the condition worse! In new-day engines a dime laid flat on the piston bumps the top of the cylinder—no room for carbon!

Carbon comes from burned oil; and oddly enough, even the most expensive oils often form the most carbon. Hard, flint-like carbon, too—the kind that does damage.

Less carbon—soft carbon. A finer lubricant.

When you buy oil now, it is not enough merely to choose a good lubricant. You should know what sort of a carbon-former it is.

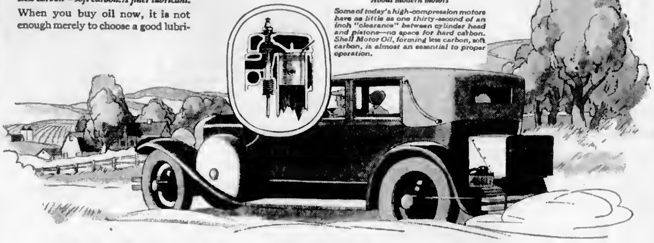
Shell Motor Oil forms only 1/3 to 1/5 as much carbon as the costliest oils; and the little it does form is soft—a kind that blows away through the exhaust!

It is made by a new high-vacuum process—no old-style stills that tend to "scorch" and weaken motor oil. The new Shell process protects it, keeps all its sturdy body and high heat-resistance. Produces a finer, smoother lubricant, remarkably free from the carbon-forming fault so common in ordinary oils.

Change to Shell Motor Oil the very next time you drain the crankcase. Buy it at yellow and red Shell signs when you need an extra quart.

About modern motors

Some of today's high-compression motors have as little as one thirty-second of an inch "clearance" between cylinder head and pistons—no space for hard carbon. Shell Motor Oil, forming less carbon, soft carbon, is almost an essential to proper operation.



SHELL MOTOR OIL

"Wet" gasolines that contain heavy fractions of petroleum, can't vaporize completely nor burn cleanly. Protect your good oil from gasoline dilution by using Shell 400, the "dry" gas

GREAT FIGURE IN WORLD SPORT PASSES AWAY

Portland Buckaroos Will Test Victoria's Strength at Willows Rink Tonight

Cubs Anxious to Get Back in Second Place And Look for Victory

Jimmy Evans Will Be Back at Centre for Local Icemen—Big Crowd Expected When Ion Sounds Whistle at 8:30 o'Clock

Smarting under the reverse handed to them last night by the Vancouver Lions, Bobby Rowe and his Portland Buckaroos will invade the lair of the Victoria Cubs tonight in an attempt to offset this reverse at the expense of Joe Smith's hirelings. Cubs will field their strongest side of recent weeks, and the Portlanders will have to skate their fastest if they want to return to the Rose City with a win. The game will start at 8:30 o'clock, and the advance sale of tickets indicates that the Willows Arena will house another big crowd. A win for Victoria will put them back in second place

ERNIE KENNY

Vancouver has a big edge on the other three teams, but Frank Patrick's squad looks like they are getting an early break. Victoria, Seattle and Portland have had hard rows to hoe due to injuries; but with most of their regulars getting back in the game the Lions may get trapped often.

Cliff O'Meara, although back with the team, will not appear in uniform tonight. The local team has twenty-two more games to play, and Manager Smith does not wish to take any chances with his star right winger. O'Meara has been engaging in light workouts with the boys and is rapidly getting back into form.

REDPATH'S KNEE HURT

Another injury crept into the Cubs' camp yesterday, when Oliver Redpath had his knee injured. Redpath has been suffering for some time with his knee, and a special support was wired for, and will be here for tonight.

Jimmy Evans, who was down with the 'flu for about two weeks, has fully recovered, and will be back at centre. His presence at the pivot position acts like a tonic to the other forwards and more goals should result. Ernie Kenny will start on the defence in place of Borland, who was sold to Seattle.

Fans will get their first glimpse of Dave Downie in action in a Buck uniform. Downie was traded for Paul Runge recently, and is working at centre. He has been going good with Rowe's crew, according to reports.

The teams will line up as follows:

Victoria		Portland
Robertson	Goal	Timmins
Redpath	Defence	Johnson
Kenny	Defence	McGoldrick
Kelly	R. Wing	Teel
Evans	Centre	Downie
H Runge	L. Wing	Conn
Osmundsen	Sub	Pratt
Leacock	Sub	Armstrong
P Runge	Sub	Bond
Pridham	Sub	Singer

TO PLAY GULF

After their jaunt around Portland and Seattle tomorrow and Friday, the Cubs will return home and start preparing for the big club golf tournament. Thirty-six holes will be played before the handicaps are allotted the various members, then the tournament proper will start. It will consist of seventy-two holes of medal play on handicap. No kicking the ball will be allowed between the tees and greens. Judge Landis may be appointed official referee.

"Trick" Knee to Keep Nighbor Out of Game

FRANK NIGHBOR OTTAWA

OTTAWA, Jan. 7.—Frank Nighbor, peerless centre of the Ottawa Senators in the National Hockey League, has been compelled to temporarily lay aside his stick, owing to an old knee injury which already has kept him out of many games this season. The "trick" knee will keep Nighbor out of action for two or three weeks at least. The management is understood to be seeking a new forward to bolster the team.

David Shows Goliath Up By Shooting Basket

By AL DEMAREE
(Former Pitcher New York Giants)

"One of the most unusual and laughable plays I ever saw happened in Murfreesboro, Tenn., between the Middle, Tenn., Normal team and the Burke Terrors, of Nashville," said Olney Chest, of Nashville, to me the other day.

"The score was tied and with seven seconds to play, 'Slim' Porter, back guard of the Terrors and six feet five inches tall, caught the ball off the back board, and realizing that all of his teammates were covered, held the ball like a football player attempting to make a forward pass.

"B. Thompson, the small running guard of the Normal team, ran up from behind Porter, while he was debating just what to do with the ball, grabbed it out of his hand and shot the basket, winning the game.

"All the spectators and players, with the exception of Porter, got a big laugh," concluded Olney, "from the puzzled and chagrined expression on the big fellow's face, after Thompson ran up and took the ball from the giant's hand and won the game. Porter is now coaching at the Texas Military Academy, San Antonio, Texas."

LEO DIEGEL WINS SAN DIEGO OPEN

Canadian Champ Plays Brilliant Golf to Lead Field by Stroke —Hagen Slows Up

CHULA VISTA, Cal., Jan. 7.—Through the chilling blasts of a rain varying wind sweeping through the day over the rolling Chula Vista course, Leo Diegel, professional of the Agua Caliente Country Club, Mexico, stroked his way yesterday to a close and thrilling victory in the $2,500 San Diego open golf tournament.

Diegel, national professional golf champion and Canadian open champion, had an aggregate of 282 for the seventy-two-hole distance. His card, showing brilliancy and consistency of play, was six strokes under par for that distance. On every round the black-haired professional subdued par, his card reading 71-69-71-71. Par for the course is 72. Victory meant first place money of $750.

SMITH IN MONEY AGAIN

Horton Smith, tall young professional from Missouri, followed Diegel by the narrow margin of one stroke.

Henry Ciuci, slight Italian from Bridgeport, Conn., was a like distance behind the quiet, unassuming Missourian. Smith made the four trips over the tricky course in 71-66-72-74, and Ciuci traversed it in 70-69-72-73.

A glorious path opened before the youthful Smith as a result of his showing in the San Diego open and previous events. Scarcely twenty-one years of age, the Joplin pro has gained himself a place on the United States Ryder Cup team, comprised of the first ten of the country's professionals, which will meet a British team.

WIN PLACE ON TEAM

Walter Hagen, peer of the professionals and captain of the cup team this year, has announced that Smith positively would be a member of the squad.

Smith won $450 as second place money yesterday. It marked the sixth successive tournament within recent weeks in which the Missourian has placed in the money. Third place money, $300, went to Ciuci.

Hagen, blowing up on his last eighteen, after turning in three splendid rounds for his previous journeys, found himself in a tie with Charles "Beau" Guest, of Detroit, with 289's. The "Haig" traversed the layout in 70-69-72-78, while Guest turned in scores of 69-73-72-74. Each got about $60 for his bill fold.

Autobiography of Tex Rickard Will Run in Colonist

BEGINNING in today's issue of The Colonist the first installment of Tex Rickard's autobiography appears. The autobiography will run for about thirty-three installments and will cover every detail of the great promoter's rise from a cowboy to millionaire sportsman. This is the only autobiography of Rickard, and was penned in collaboration with one of the late promoter's staunchest friends, Boseman Bulger.

TEX RICKARD ALWAYS PLAYED GAME SQUARE

Promoter Made It a Point of Paying Back What He Borrowed—Would Never Dodge Creditors

COULD ALWAYS GRIN OVER HIS LOSSES

By WALTER TRUMBULL
(Copyright, 1929, by the North American Newspaper Alliance.)

Tex Rickard not only regarded existence as a gamble, but found it a game. And Rickard always played his games straight and got a lot of fun out of them.

It seems strange how little this man was known, even by those who saw him frequently. He had definite philosophies of life, although he would not have phrased it in that manner. Among Tex's ideas were that a debt always should be paid, that there was a way to do everything and that people pretty generally believed what they wished to believe.

For one who so often in his life came in contact with crooked dealing and double-crossing, Rickard had a high regard for honesty and honor. Loyalty, honor and brains were the three qualities he most admired. He once said to me of a person who had disappointed him:

"He looked like a great fella. It kind of hurt me to find he wasn't on the level."

In spite of his experience, Rickard was more often surprised to find a man dishonest than he was to find him honest. His impulse was to believe that everyone was square until he found otherwise.

COULD GRIN AT LOSSES

Rickard liked to win, but he could always grin over losses, unless he thought that he had been gypped. In the early days of the Yukon honesty was the universal policy. Miners could leave gold dust in their tents unhidden and come back and find it there. Gambling and drinking were prevalent, but there was no poison liquor sold and no man dealt from the bottom of the pack.

Later the snakes began to swarm into this Northern region. Gentry arrived with ways that were dark and tricks which were vain. One of them imported the first brace box for use in faro that Rickard had seen. The view cost him $16,000, some one wiser and older explained to Tex that he had been played for a sucker.

"I didn't have any trouble with that man that day," Tex told me, "because he had three friends with him who were all anxious to shoot. But there was only one station and one train and I knew he would be leaving that night before the news of the way he played got noised around. He'd won a lot of money besides mine. So," Tex added, with a grin, "I waited for him at the station that night and he gave me back my money. If he'd won it fair it would have been all right, but that was too much to loose to a crook."

"Didn't he object to giving it back?" I asked.

"No," said Tex, "no, he had no objections at all. You see, I had an argument with me—with six cartridges in it."

I've heard people say that Tex had no sense of humor. He had a keen sense of humor, but it was his own particular brand. When he told you something that he considered funny he would laugh silently until he fairly shook and his eyes would sparkle. There were few people with happier thoughts than Tex. He always turned a cloud inside out to give a silver lining at least an even break. And, as I mentioned, he had his theories.

COULD GET MONEY

"I haven't been broke for a long time," he said once. "That doesn't mean I always have had money, but I always could get money. I think people have trusted me because I never dodged anybody to whom I owed a debt. If I went to a town where I owed a man some money he was the first man I looked up. I didn't always speak about the debt. I'd let him bring up that subject if he wanted to, and if he did I'd tell him that I couldn't pay him then, and that I was sorry, but that I would pay him the first minute I could. And I always paid him as soon as I could.

"If I had a son," continued Tex, "that's the first thing I'd teach him. To borrow a nickel, a dime or a dollar if he needed it, but always to pay it back and to never dodge the man be owed it to just because he didn't have it at the time. It has hurt me lots of times to see men who owed me money dodge me. If a man isn't ashamed to borrow, he shouldn't be ashamed to owe—just so he honestly intends to pay the debts."

That's pretty good philosophy.

King of Sportsmen and Baby Princess

TEX Rickard and his daughter Maxine. In the above picture the camera has recorded a phase in the life of the late boxing promoter hitherto largely hidden from the public—his adoration of his infant daughter. Maxine held a large place in her father's heart. It is said of Rickard that wherever he might be at the time, he would race home at 10 o'clock each night to see the baby have her supper and be tucked away in her cot.

Rickard Thought Dempsey Greatest of Present Crop

In Last Contribution to Boxing Literature, Promoter Told of Plans to Bring Ex-Champion Back Into Ring

NEW YORK, N.Y., Jan. 7 (Associated Press).—Tex Rickard's last contribution to boxing literature is his ranking list for 1928, coupled with what he planned to be the definite announcement of Jack Dempsey's comeback this year. It is contained in a copyrighted story written by the promoter for the issue of The Ring, monthly boxing publication, appearing this Friday.

Rickard's rankings are especially significant, as giving the promoter's final analysis of the game he developed so extensively. Equally interesting is his forecast of Dempsey's plans, even though they are now in doubt as a result of the promoter's death.

The promoter ranked the former champion as the outstanding heavyweight now that Tunney has retired, and declared that Dempsey would fight once, either in August or September, as a finalist in the elimination tournament that gets under way with a battle between Jack Sharkey and Young Stribling at Miami Beach, Florida, on February 27.

"Jack Dempsey will come back this year," Tex wrote. "One cannot think of Dempsey except in terms of greatness, and therefore in his case inactivity last year must be disregarded in the rating of the world's leading heavyweights, for he is greater than any fighter now basking in the limelight and striving for the title left vacant by Gene Tunney.

"The return of Dempsey will cause the public to accept the appointment of a successor to Gene as a genuine champion. The fellow who can whip Dempsey will earn the recognition of the public as champion. He will win their confidence, and, after all, public opinion is what will count most in deciding Tunney's successor. Although Dempsey lost the verdict to Tunney at Chicago, there are thousands of fight fans throughout the world who feel that he is the uncrowned world's heavyweight champion.

FIGHT ONLY ONCE

"Dempsey will fight only once. That one battle will be for me, and it will decide the holder of the crown. He will be one of two finalists, the other to be selected from other contenders. Dempsey is the former champion, and as such is entitled to more consideration than Sharkey, Stribling, Paolino, Heeney, Risko and the rest of the field. The date of the title bout will depend on how long Dempsey needs to get in condition.

"Dempsey is coming back to give the heavyweight class the punch it now lacks, to reinject a lot of the old interest and Dempsey color into the situation. The public wants Dempsey to return, and he will heed public clamor as did Jim Jeffries."

In rating 418 boxers from all parts of the world in various divisions, on the basis of the ring wars of 1928, Rickard placed Gene Tunney, although he is retired, at the head of the heavyweights; named Fidel La Barba as the outstanding bantamweight in a division that knows no generally recognized ruler, and gave the same recognition to "Spider" Pladner, of France, of the leaderless flyweights. The promoter gave Jimmy McLarnin the palm among the junior welterweights in preference to "Mushy" Callahan, considered the champion of this unorthodox division, but recognized all other titleholders as the leaders of their classes during 1928.

Rickard ignored the claims of "Izzy" Schwartz, New York State champion, and Frankie Genaro, National Boxing Association titleholder among the flyweights. Similarly "Bushy" Graham, New York champion, and Al Brown, N.B.A. titleholder, ranked behind La Barba among the bantams.

Jimmy McLarnin to Fight Glick Friday

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Jimmy McLarnin, he of the baby face and the crushing right hand, returns to New York rings this week.

Stopped by Ray Miller, Chicago's left hook artist, in his last start, Jimmy meets Joe Glick, Williamsburgh pants presser, in a ten-round bout at Madison Square Garden Friday night.

The Pacific Coast slugger definitely has quit the lightweight ranks and will campaign as a welterweight. Friday night's battle is at 138 pounds, and McLarnin may have some difficulty getting down to that figure. Glick is a genuine lightweight and right now an outstanding contender for Sammy Mandell's crown.

TEX RICKARD DIES AFTER OPERATION FOR APPENDICITIS

Sport Loses One of Biggest Figures When New York Promoter Fails to Rally After Complications Set In—Rise From Cowboy to Millionaire Reads Like Romance

Walter Trumbull Gives Some Inside Information on Life of Sportsman

Just before he went to Florida, where he died Sunday, Tex Rickard handed Walter Trumbull the exact figures concerning the various bouts he promoted. The figures were to be published at such a time in the future as Mr. Trumbull thought best. Mr. Trumbull thinks that time is now.

By WALTER TRUMBULL
(Copyright, 1929, by the North American Newspaper Alliance.)

Tex Rickard is dead.

Sport has lost the greatest promoter it ever knew. Many of us have lost a friend.

This must be somewhat a personal article, because it is a personal loss. In this world you disregard what others tell you and take men as you find them. I always found George Lewis Rickard courageous and honest and big. In fifteen years he never told me a lie, nor did I find him anything but a straight-thinking, straight-acting gentleman.

Rickard was born in Kansas City, Missouri, fifty-six years ago, and as a child was taken to Henrietta, Texas. From there the little farm boy traveled far afield. In distant corners of the world, in strange and lonely lands he left a footprint. He knew what lay behind the mountains and across the rivers, then he came back and the big cities grew to know him well. Here, too, he left his mark.

There is often scornful talk of a dreamer of dreams. Rickard's whole career is a justification of the dreamer. He had that vision without which the good book says a people perish.

Rickard has told me that as a young cowboy riding herd at night he looked up at the stars and wondered if one a little brighter than the others might not be his star to follow. This tall, lean man was a romanticist at heart. He rode out of Texas on a cowboy saddle because he heard that same voice of adventure calling which has whispered to every real dreamer from Icarus to Langley, from Marco Polo to Byrd.

MADE DREAMS COME TRUE

Tex had a great curiosity concerning people and places, a virile and vivid interest in every new thing he saw. Most valuable of all, he had what so many dreamers lack. The ambition and ability to make his dreams come true. When they did come true it was a source of honest wonder to him and of simple pride.

I can remember when Madison Square Garden was being built how Rickard almost would refuse to leave the place for meals. He watched each column and girder put into place, each brick as it was laid. And often as we stood together he would say:

"There's never been anything like it in the world. They can talk all they want about their Roman Colosseum, but it didn't have furnaces and electric lights and those machines to change the air like this has. I tell you it's the greatest arena in the world. And it isn't just for boxing. I'm going to bring every sport in here. Lots of times when I was a cowboy in Texas, or a miner in Circle City, or a cafe owner in Nome, I used to dream of the things I'd do, but I don't think I ever figured I'd build anything as big as this. I've come a long way since I rode out of Texas."

It was always Rickard's vision, his ability to see further than the other fellow which brought him his success. Others had the same chances, but they didn't have the same courage or the same personality.

BEAT THEM ALL

Boxing owes more to Rickard than to any man that ever lived. He took it up when it was spoken of in the same breath with safebreaking and gang warfare, and made it respectable, fashionable and prosperous. This roused fierce jealousy among those who lacked his ability. They tried to get him in every way they could, but he fought them and beat them all. None of them had his brains or his genius for promotion. Always he kept his light shining, just a little ahead of the rest.

Regarding what Rickard actually did financially in boxing I can tell you; because on December 24, the last day I saw him, when we said good-bye and agreed to meet in Miami in February, he gave me the figures taken from the books of the Garden and his own personal files.

From the day of the Gans-Nelson fight in Goldfield, his first effort, to December 24, 1928, Rickard promoted 289 boxing matches. The total gross receipts of these bouts amounted to $24,502,278.22.

"They talk about big business," Tex said to me. "I think twenty-four million dollars is big business."

On these 289 bouts Rickard paid a Government tax of $2,069,659.06. In this connection Rickard pointed out to me that whereas the tax paid by the Garden Corporation in 1927 had been $653,400, that in 1928, under the new 25 per cent tax law, it had only amounted to $375,460. He felt that the new tax law had cost the Government about a quarter of a million dollars.

The first fight which Rickard promoted—the Gans-Nelson bout—drew $67,715.

PROMOTED BIGGEST BOUT

The Tunney-Dempsey fight in Chicago drew $2,658,253.72. This was the biggest bout in point of receipts that Rickard ever promoted, although there were more spectators at the Tunney-Dempsey bout in Philadelphia, which grossed $1,895,733.40.

Rickard's third biggest gate was the Dempsey-Carpentier bout at Boyle's Thirty Acres, which grossed $1,626,238. The Dempsey-Firpo bout at the Polo Grounds grossed $1,188,602.80.

Rickard always said that Jack Dempsey was "the greatest drawing card in this here world," and this fact was capable of demonstration. In seven bouts which Rickard promoted, Jack Dempsey drew a gross of $9,164,861.02.

Rickard and Dempsey always were close friends outside of their business relations. Jack was one of the few boxers made wealthy by Rickard who ever showed a sense of gratitude. No one ever was more appreciative than Rickard of any kindness or consideration shown him.

Rickard was a many-sided person and there were things about him which few people knew. He adored his little daughter, Maxine. For months after she was born he would hurry home at 10 o'clock from wherever he might be, because that was the time she was fed. He was fond of children. I was with Rickard, Roy Howard and Bernarr Macfadden in the station at St. Louis last July. We separated for a few moments, and coming back I looked around for Rickard. I saw him.

DELIGHTS CHILD'S HEART

That St. Louis station has booths in it which are fronted by showcases. In one of these showcases was a large doll. A tiny girl stood with her nose flattened against the glass. In her eyes the expression of an outcast peri looking through the gates into Paradise. It was even wonderful to know that there were dolls like that in the world. Her brother, a little older, held her dutifully by the hand. He wasn't interested in dolls.

Suddenly I saw Rickard walk over and speak to the owner of the booth. The doll was removed from the case and Tex stooped and laid it in the child's arms. She didn't say a word. She just opened her arms and gathered that doll in as Tex walked hastily out of the station door. The little girl's father and mother had been sitting on a bench nearby. And as I walked over the man rose hastily and said to me:

"A tall fella that just went out of here bought my kid that doll. It's expensive and I'm afraid she asked him for it."

"No, she didn't," I said. "I watched him buy it and your little girl never said a word."

"It was mighty kind of him," he said. "I wish I knew who he was."

I told him who it was and he was as excited as the child was over the doll. That was only one of a thousand kind things I have seen Rickard do in the fifteen years I have known him.

The boy who started from Kansas City to journey through Texas and Alaska and Africa and South America to New York found in Miami the end of the road. It was as romantic and colorful a highway as almost any man ever trod. Rickard had reached the point where he told me that he was going to take things a little easier. He had all the money and the fame he desired.

He had a wife and a child and a host of friends in humble and high places. He had the yacht he bought from Walter Chrysler, of which he was proud, and he had the home in Miami Beach, which he loved. He meant to rest a little more, but the active mind of his would never let him rest entirely while he lived. He talked with me of a dozen plans for enterprises in Florida.

A TRUE SPORTSMAN

Now he has reached the end of the long trail, but you can say this for George Lewis Rickard:

He gave a tremendous lot to life and he got a tremendous lot out of it. Tex Rickard's was no colorless existence. He lived and died a great dreamer, a great adventurer and a great sportsman.

There was only one Tex Rickard. No one can take his place.

GARAGE HOCKEY TEAMS FURNISH FAST BATTLE

The Garage Hockey League teams dished up a pair of exciting games on Saturday evening at the Willows Rink, in which Plimleys and National Motors battled to a 2-2 draw, while H. A. Davie, Ltd., beat Humphries Motors 2-1. The games proved to be the most interesting of the season.

Tex Rickard's Autobiography

This is the only Autobiography written by Tex Rickard. It was prepared in collaboration with Boseman Bulger for publication exclusively by The Colonist and the North American Newspaper Alliance. Shortly before Rickard's death he discussed with Bulger plans for publication of these memoirs in book form. Following is the first installment of the autobiography, which will appear in daily chapters.

(Copyright, 1929, by the North American Newspaper Alliance.)

When a man waits until he is my age to assemble his thoughts on paper the chances are his efforts will be jumpy. I was born in Kansas City, Mo, January 2, 1870, and my life has been jumpy. They even say that my manner of speech is jumpy.

It is hard to realize, as I sit here in Madison Square Garden, New York, surrounded by pictures of fighters and conferring hourly with boxers, managers, promoters, matchmakers and newspaper men, that forty years ago I was following the second herd of longhorns driven across the plains of Texas into Kansas—North of "36."

Mind you, I worked on a cattle ranch at the age of ten. Emerson Hough's great pioneer story, "North of 36," reads to me like a diary of my early days. Following the lead of that historic herd across the Red River into Kansas I went with the second batch.

ACTED AS BANKER

I have been a town marshal in Texas, as well as a cowboy. Later I was in the Klondike for the gold strike. I have acted as banker for the gold dust of the miners. I have conducted gaming houses for their amusement—and mine.

I have cut wood for the Yukon steamers. I have staked claims for myself and have purchased mineral properties for big corporations. I have promoted prize fights, or boxing matches, as the officials prefer to call them. Indeed, my life has been jumpy.

Before me are piled more than two hundred letters from men in various sections of the country giving suggestions, in answer to my request, on what would be the subjects for me to discuss. Fifty per cent of them suggest that I tell the secret of my success in being able to select the right boxing matches for the right moment.

"How are you able to call the turn every time?" some ask.

In other words, how do you correctly figure the public mind?

Equally as many suggest a narration of my days in the Klondike. The third group would like the inside details of the big fights I have promoted. The letters then run off into odd queries like this: "How do you make these roughneck fighters keep their contracts?" or "Who was the cruelest man you ever saw in the ring?"

There is no secret method of ascertaining what current subject the public is interested in. To me it always seems apparent. I simply read the newspapers carefully and find out. Anybody can do that. The thing people want to see is the thing they talk about most.

To my mind writing is the most interesting art in the world. Advertising I consider the greatest power in the world. My assistant has suggested that I use the word "publicity." That may be more proper, but always I have considered what I read in the newspapers about people as advertising them—making them known.

LISTENED TO GOSSIP

All you've got to do is read the newspapers daily and find out what the greatest number of people are talking about. Also, I listen to what people say about what they have read in the newspapers. If you are a promoter that is the thing you want to capitalize. That has been my method.

A lot of people do not think in a straight line. They get confused by sidelights. They ramble off on tangents and miss the real point. I reckon you know these people who can talk all day and you never find out what it is all about.

I suppose my early training taught me to know straight talk. In those days when every man was on his own they had to talk straight. Before I was fifteen I knew the difference between straight talk and "boorah," as we called it then. That is what we now call "bunk," "applesauce," and so on. In my kid days a man was either giving you straight talk or he was "hoorahing." Believe me, the most innocent and ignorant knew the difference.

The man who tells you he doesn't pay much attention to the newspapers is either a fool or a liar—maybe both. A lot of smart alecks like to say that. They always wind up as smart alecks, too.

New York had an experience that put a lot of folks wise. A pressmen's strike practically stopped all the papers for a week and people were hopping around like chickens with their heads off. Stores were hit so that several of them printed a sheet in imitation of a newspaper and had criers out on the street trying to give away their advertisements.

One little dumbbell of a fight manager had been bothering around for a week to get a picture of his fighter and a boost for himself printed. He talked to a press agent and thought it was all fixed.

"Say," he said to me, coming into my office all steamed up, "What kind of a town is this? I've got three of them papers and there ain't a line about nothing but ladies' underwear and a coat sale—and me giving that guy a dinner!"

That fellow had actually bought a dozen of those store papers!

LOTS OF SUGGESTIONS

Never a day passes but some friend or acquaintance calls my attention to some fighter who would be a great match with Dempsey, with Firpo, or some of those fellows. They will tell me of some wonder who will give such-and-such a man a great fight.

I listen, but such suggestions mean little to me. I don't care a rap who the man is or how well he can fight. All I want to know is: Does the public want to see him? To get that I read the newspapers and find out which way the gossip is heading—who is mentioned the most. Really, I don't see anything complicated about it.

Notwithstanding what has been written and said about building up false interest, let me tell you that is a mighty hard thing to do. The writing men can spring all the stuff like that they want to, and we may do all we can to keep it going, but unless the public reacts to it the built-up interest will soon die out. Real interest persists and grows. That's the stuff to put your finger on.

Take, for instance, the Dempsey-Carpentier fight. Nearly every fight man in the country had a feeling that such a match wouldn't be even, that Carpentier was too light. Others might have given Dempsey a better fight, but the public weren't talking about others. They wanted to see Carpentier. The affair had an international tinge. I don't see how anybody could have failed to see from the start that Dempsey and Carpentier would be a great attraction. The gossip had headed that way and there was no way of stopping it, even if we had tried.

Why, we tried for two years to get Carpentier over here before he finally came. When the French Government put its foot down on the proposition toward the end of the war, even that did not kill the interest.

TALK IS CLUE

As I say, the newspapers do it all. A man in any line of business can find a chance for success in the newspapers every day if he will only read them with care and with common sense. Gossip is the clue to public desire, and in a city the newspapers furnish the only way of getting at it.

In the Klondike and along the Yukon all the big gold strikes were the result of gossip.

"What did you hear up North?" we would ask of strangers those days, and we went by what we heard—if it was straight talk.

"What did you see in the newspapers?" we ask today.

The wise man pays attention. The unwise one simply reads and forgets. I was taught to think straight in a hard school, as I will show.

CANADA DID NOT SEEK CHANGE IN KOLAPORE SHOOT

OTTAWA, Jan. 7.—Canada did not ask for any change in the conditions of the Kolapore Cup. This was made clear in a statement maye by Colonel R. J. Birdwhistle, secretary of the Dominion Rifle Association, today. A Canadian Press cable of Saturday announced that the National Rifle Association, the governing body of the Bisley rifle meet at which teams from all parts of the Empire gather, had changed the rules governing the Kolapore match so that riflemen who had already competed three times for the trophy would be ineligible for the other Country team in the future.

The reason given for the change was that "overseas teams have often felt overweighted when pitted against a body of such hardened marksmen as the Mother Country is able to place in the field."

"We object to the inference that Canada is not ready to meet the best team the Mother Country can produce," said Colonel Birdwhistle. "The Canadian team won the Kolapore Cup in 1925, 1926 and 1927, and on nine previous occasions against the strongest teams that could be secured and no concessions are desired."

Vancouver Lengthens Lead in P.C.H.L. by 4-2 Win Over Bucks

Portland Takes Early Lead, But Fails to Retain It—Goalie Timmins and Phillips Draw Major Penalties for Mixing

VANCOUVER, Jan. 7.—Vancouver Lions doubled the score on Portland Buckaroos and won tonight's Pacific Coast Hockey League game here, 4-2. The Bucks took the lead in the first period and held it until the middle session, when the locals went to the front and remained there for the balance of the game.

The Portland team was a much rejuvenated squad from the one that performed here last week. The game was productive of the most thrilling hockey seen here this season. Thirteen penalties in all were handed out by Referee Mickey Ion, two of them being majors of ten minutes. These went to Sam Timmins, in the Portland goal, and Bill Phillips, left winger of the Lions. The third period was three-quarters through with the Lions two goals to the good when Phillips rushed in front to take an assist. Timmins checked him out and then followed him behind the net to the boards. Phillips had lost his stick and retaliated with his fists, while Timmins used his stick until Mickey Ion parted them. Two more penalties were handed out before the final whistle blew.

On the play the Lions deserved to win, but they had one of the toughest battles of the season on their hands.

CONN SCORES FIRST

Portland scored first in the opening period, when Conn went down on a rush and drove a hard one at Jackson, who took it on his shoulder. The puck bounced off to hit the post and land in the net. Only twenty seconds of the second period had elapsed when Sanderson took a pass in front of Somers and beat Timmins for the equaliser. Six minutes later Beattie took a pass from Jerwa just inside the blue line and sent in a bouncer through the maze of legs in front of the net, giving the goalie little chance to save.

Beattie, who hails from Edmonton and recently joined the Lions as substitute centre, was the star of the evening. Seven minutes after the last stanza had started he went down alone, circled the two defence Buckaroos and drilled one past Timmins.

Art Somers, the Vancouver captain and centre, was off the ice most of the last period because of a bad knee. "Army" Armstrong, one of the pick of the visitors, secured the second Portland counter on a neat play in front of the net. Only thirty-eight seconds later McAdam shot from the blue line, the puck hitting the goalie's pads and dropping in.

FOUR-MAN ATTACK

Portland kept only one man on the defence in the dying moments of the game in an effort to tie up the contest, but they were too closely checked to get near Jackson. Up to the time he was forced to leave the ice, Somers bore the brunt of the Vancouver attack, while Armstrong, McGoldrick and Teel were the pick of the Buckaroos. McGoldrick took Timmins' place in front of the net when he was ruled off, and stopped some very stiff shots.

GOLF AS CHAMPIONS PLAY IT

Alex Herd states that most women swing the club far too quickly on the up-swing, and that that accounts for their poor playing? Do you agree?

Answered by MIRIAM BURNS

As most professionals say, "How much better your game would be if you hit the ball on the up-swing instead of the down." I agree with Mr. Herd that much poor playing is the result of the quick up-swing. It is my opinion that this fault can be eliminated to a very great extent if, on finding that you are swinging up too quickly, you stop and calm yourself for a while. A good up-swing is a very important part of the stroke, and a quick up-swing is largely a matter of haste, which practice and deliberation can overcome.

PRICES TURN DOWNWARD ON STOCK MARKET

High-Priced Issues Crack From Five to Nearly Fifteen Points—Long List of Losses

ATTEMPTED RALLY PROVES FAILURE

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—The stock market underwent another sharp downward readjustment of quoted values today, despite the desperate efforts of pool operators to bring about a general rally. Several of the high-priced specialties cracked 5 to nearly 15 points, and a long line of standard industrials and rails closed 1 to 4 points lower. Relatively few issues, conspicuous among which was Studebaker, recorded substantial net gains.

Radio Corporation common broke 24 1-2 points to 365 in the midday selling movement, but recovered a part of its loss.

Midland Steel Products preferred broke 14 points, National Tea 14, Rossia Insurance 12, and American Smelting, Burroughs Adding Machine, Dupont, General Electric, Greene Cananea Copper, Montgomery-Ward, Union Carbide and Warren Bros., all showed net declines of 5 to 6 points.

Most automobiles were under selling pressure. Chrysler fell more than 5 points and rallied 2, and Hudson, Hupp, Nash, and some of the others lost a point or more. General Motors dropped more than 4 points, but recovered all but a fraction of its loss. Studebaker ran up more than 6 points to 83, and closed within a fraction of the top, and the Pierce Arrow issues moved into new high ground.

Rails also fell back sharply despite the favorable character of current earnings and traffic reports. Canadian Pacific slumped 8 1-2 points and rallied 1, and Rock Island, Delaware, Hudson, Gulf Mobile, "Nickel Plate," and Texas & Pacific fell back 2 to 4 points. Wabash preferred "A" moved up more than 7 points to 104 7-8, and then eased to 102.

Foreign exchanges moved within narrow and irregular limits, with sterling cables quoted around $4 85 1-6.

Trading was dull and listless in the bond market. While a few speculative and convertible issues made substantial gains, the general trend of prices again was irregularly lower.

BETTER TONE IN CHICAGO WHEAT

Buyers Show Disposition to Await Better Demand From Abroad and at Home

(Supplied by B.C. Bond Corpn., Ltd.)

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—The market displayed a much better tone than of late as a result of news which was largely bullish. At the same time there was not much disposition to follow advances, the desire being evidently to await a better demand from abroad and from domestic users.

Export business consisted of a fair quantity of Manitobas with some durums. Offerings at Winnipeg, where the market was strong were small. One Winnipeg shipper sold some No. 2 Northern to go all rail to Quebec and the pool was reported making no offers abroad at this level.

Liverpool was unexpectedly strong, due to bullish weekly statistics with increasing demand for nearby Canadian wheat and smaller offers of Argentine. The seaboard said inability to obtain offerings of Manitobas was hampering export business. Our visible supply showed the first decrease in some time and there was no pressure of cash grain here. Some of today's buying was credited to exporters and to the Northwest, while there appears to be nothing in the general situation to bring about an immediately higher range. Larger consumption as a result of prevailing favorable levels may bring conservative action before long.

The undertone in corn was firm, although prices eased fractionally near the close owing to back spreading in the way of buying wheat and selling corn. Argentine corn was firm, as new corn there is entering the critical stage. The crop is now at the tasseling period, moisture is reported below normal and generous rains will be needed for maturity. Their weather now corresponds with our June, when occasional showers and high temperatures are essential. Receipts here were fairly large, but the spot basis showed very little change. The visible supply is still ten million below this time last year. Some export business was said to have been done at the seaboard and Omaha reported sales via Halifax. Broomhall reported a better demand for American corn, largely due to increased consumption as a result of colder weather in the United Kingdom.

The Hog always loses playing the

STOCK-MARKET

The smartest traders do not operate on margins, unless they can cover in case of emergency. It might be a good idea to follow, as the hogs always lose.

It is a common saying in Wall Street that the bulls make money, the bears make money, but the hogs always lose.

The hog is the man who tries to get rich quick. A mere 10 per cent or so will not satisfy him. He will always say, "I don't make any money unless I buy stock on margin because I haven't enough money to get anywhere."

Consequently he buys too much and has to trade extensively on margin. Sooner or later he is caught and cannot pay out. He suffers a large loss and another hog is slaughtered.

Why add the risk of margin trading to an already dangerous business?

MINING MARKET IS UNCERTAIN

EXTENSIVE PROFIT-TAKING IS ATTRACTED BY RECENT ADVANCE

Noranda Subjected to Considerable Bear Pressure—Realizing Sales Heavy

(Supplied by R. P. Castle & Co., Ltd.)

TORONTO, Jan. 7.—At the present time the mining market appears in a rather uncertain condition. Daily extensive profit-taking has been attracted by the substantial character of the recent advance, but despite this, prices have held up remarkably well.

In conjunction with active profit-taking, Noranda was subjected to considerable bear pressure today and sold off from the opening of 65.25 to 62.50, rallying to close at 63.50.

International was also subjected to some pressure, but offered more resistance than did Noranda, reacting but $1.50 from the opening from 55.00, only to recover with closing prices at 50 cents above the opening with very little stock offered.

Realizing sales were particularly heavy in the more speculative issues, and a continuance of this may be experienced.

In the relation of earning to selling price, the more prominent producers appear to be the most reasonably priced on the board. However, we would not overlook the Nickels nor Noranda, as these still appear to offer good profit-taking possibilities.

STRONG CABLES CHECK LIQUIDATION IN WINNIPEG MARKET

Local Demand for Cash Wheat Excellent—Coarse Grain Markets Decidedly Strong.

(Supplied by Branson, Brown & Co., Ltd.)

WINNIPEG, Jan. 7.—Wheat: The unexpectedly strong cables checked further liquidation of long wheat and caused shorts to cover, with the result that opening prices were ⅛c higher than the close on Saturday. Around mid-session exporters were good buyers and this carried prices to 1½ above the previous close, but the full bulge was not held after this demand was satisfied, but there was little for sale on the dips. Export sales over the week end and this morning were estimated close to one million bushels of Manitoba. The pool sold nothing, refusing to offer wheat under basis $1.20 for May wheat. This gave the trade an opportunity to accept bids, which they accepted. There was an excellent demand for cash wheat locally from terminals and line elevator companies, while offerings were not large. Spreads on No. 2 Northern were unchanged, but were ½ to 2 cents higher on the others, feed being the strongest. There appears to be an accumulation of cash wheat going on by the trade and which is not being hedged. The market turned strong again in the closing minutes under another movement of short covering reaching the highest point of the day.

Coarse Grains: These markets were all decidedly strong today. There was good buying of barley and oats by exporters and a better demand from domestic channels. There was not much doing in rye but this market showed strength in sympathy with wheat.

Flax: This market advanced in sympathy with the strength in the general grain list, but trade was not large and crushers were not showing much interest.

Stock News Bulletin

By Miller, Court & Co., Ltd.
(By Teletype Wire)

The general underton of the market continued strong today with the majority of issues advancing to higher prices. Among these were Mohawk, Cork Province, Lucky Jim and Grandview.

Lucky Jim opened up 3 points above Saturday's close at 24, and held firm at that price.

Cork opened up at 26½ and sold up to 27, with higher prices indicated within the next few days.

Grandview opened down at 61, but rallied to 64, 3 points above Saturday.

Mohawk opened at 9½ and sold steadily between 9⅛ and 9½ and it is expected that the demand for this issue will push the prices to higher levels.

Noble Five eased to 68 with a good turnover.

Independence was stronger, opening at 13 and selling up to 13¼.

Bayview continued firm at 6.

Pend Oreille opened at $11.50 and remained strong.

National Silver was in strong demand between 25 and 24 while Topley Richfield opened strong at 52.

Woodbine opened up at 4, while Big Miss was weak, selling down from 88 to 86½.

Kootenay Florence was steady between 21 and 21½.

Whitewater continued strong at 1.40.

A.P. Cons. was firm at 60.

The strength of the market today indicates a general advance in the prices of the majority of issues during the next few days. Trading continues heavy and is greater than the average maintained during the active market last year. Among the issues particularly favored for sharp advances during the next few days are Whitewater, Cork, Lucky Jim, Topley, Mohawk, Noble, Reeves, with Pend Oreille as the leader.

Ruth Hope is favored for a steady climb in anticipation of a dividend being declared at the annual meeting to be held in the near future. It is a well known fact that this company is at the present earning more than 17 per cent on the par value of stock outstanding, or about 28 per cent at present market prices. The sharp advance in Mohawk is expected as a result of the shipment of high grade ore to the smelter, returns from which are more than paying the current costs of development work.

International Nickel Dividend Is Declared

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Directors of International Nickel Co. of Canada Ltd., today declared an initial quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on the preferred stock, payable February, to stock of record on January 18.

CREDIT PLAN OF WORLD IS INFLUENCED

United States Is Largest Producer of Watches and Clocks, With Switzerland and Germany Next

MEXICO SUFFERS FROM INFLUENZA

Reasons for Steady Advance in Price of Copper Are Described Briefly—

By JOHN F. SINCLAIR

(Copyright, 1929, by the North American Newspaper Alliance.)

Has the gold standard been abandoned, and a new gold reserve standard taken its place in the world's credit system? E. A. Goldenweiser, director of research of the Federal Reserve Board, says so.

"There has emerged the gold-reserve standard, which tends to relieve gold of all its functions, except the duty to act as reserves," says this economist.

To put it another way, the recent movement of gold from one nation to another has become primarily a matter of policy, not of economic law. The central banks of the world have definite and positive control of all the major gold movements. This explains why the loss by the United States of a half billion dollars in gold during the last year was due not to an unfavorable international trade balance, but to the fact that France and others wanted gold for reserve. It likewise explains why in the face of much higher discount rates in New York than in Europe, a return movement in gold, in volume, so far has not occurred.

If gold has been relieved of all its functions except that of serving as a reserve, it would seem to follow that a diminished world production of new gold in the future could be met, not by a deflation of the price level, as often in the past, but by lowering the gold reserve ratio.

A good roads programme is sweeping Europe. Czechoslovakia, which adopted a ten-year road building programme involving the expenditure of $30,000,000, has decided to spend it within five years. Why? Because of the unexpectedly large amounts which have come in from the road tax on motor vehicles.

Great Britain is another country planning its road programme far in advance. In the old days, before the war, roads were largely under local jurisdiction. Now they are coming more and more under central Federal control. In England the total receipts of the road fund from all sources in 1928 amounted to about $100,000,000, compared with $90,000,000 in 1927.

Main highways are being made out of old country lanes, bridges are being modernized and strengthened, and new roads are being constructed with a view to building up outlying towns and cities.

Other countries particularly active in road construction are Spain, Italy, Germany and Switzerland. They all see the advantage of good roads in the expansion of the tourist trade.

And we cannot forget Egypt's roads. A dry country with an average rainfall of only two or three inches a year, Egypt also is comparatively flat. It has a temperature which rarely reaches freezing, the factors for roadmaking are abundant and cheap, and the petroleum refinery at Suez produces the bitumen necessary for the hard surface road. Egypt, especially favored by nature and climate, will doubtless develop one of the finest road systems in the world.

American watch manufacturers report one of the most prosperous years in their history, and so does the watch industry of Switzerland, whose output exceeded that of 1927.

What has changed, however, is the method of exportation. By far the largest percentage of the watches exported by the Swiss Republic are sent in parts, to be assembled in foreign countries. The number of completed watches being sent from Switzerland is below the prewar figures. The export of Swiss watches and parts during the first nine months of 1928 had a value of 200,000,000 francs ($38,600,000), an increase of more than 10 per cent over the corresponding period of 1927.

The United States is by far the world's largest producer of watches and clocks, almost equal to Switzerland and Germany, the two countries next in importance, combined.

Soviet Russia, interested in manufacturing watches for its 140,000,000 people, sent a delegation of seven to Switzerland last month to study watch manufacturing. It is reported that Russia is now ready to build a factory which will produce 1,000,000 watches a year. This, they say, is just a beginning.

Recent developments in the Balkans give definite assurance that England and France, contrary to popular belief, are working closely in the development of international policy in that part of Europe.

The resignation, upon the insistence of France and England, of Minister of War Wolkoff, who has been known as the "secret military dictator" of Bulgaria, shows that at least for the present their influence in the Balkans is the strongest, overshadowing that of Italy.

It was understood that Wolkoff agreed to resign as soon as the $20,000,000 loan of Bulgaria, approved by the League of Nations and placed in England and the United States, had been completed.

The former dictator has now done so, and as a reward he has been appointed Bulgarian Ambassador to Italy.

The grip, or flu, which began in the West and moved steadily eastward, is now reported to be spreading in Mexico. About 10,000 cases have been reported in Monterey alone, and extreme measures have been taken to control the disease, including the banning of handshaking.

Dr. Shirley W. Wynne, United States health commissioner, has said that so far there is no known preventive.

"Avoid persons who are ill, keep out of crowds, maintain your bodily resistance by hygienic living, and if you become ill, go to bed and call your family physician," he suggests.

Copper, in the doldrums for several years after the war, is in such demand today that it appears probable the price will be seventeen cents a pound before the end of January, three cents above the price a year ago.

It takes from two to three months for copper in ore to appear as refined copper, so the smelter output during the inactive times is much larger than the refinery output.

According to the United States Bureau of Mines, the stocks of refined copper had been depleted from 171,000,000 pounds at the beginning of 1928 to 65,000,000 pounds on the last day of the year. The 1928 production was 10 per cent higher than that of 1927.

The copper price advance, therefore, is due to the stock of refined copper diminishing steadily during the last year. Copper production at the same time was steadily increasing, but demand moved ahead even more rapidly, so the price rose in the last six months from 14 3-4 cents to 16 3-4 cents today.

The South American mines are reporting that, due to several accidents, the Spring may show a reduction of output. At least, that is the rumor which has influenced the present wave of buying.

Sudbury Basin—

At present prices Sudbury's holdings in Falconbridge Nickel alone show a profit of over four million dollars. It owns 219,712 shares of Sherritt Gordon, and it is now selling at a price hardly equalling the profits on the assured ore visible on its own properties.

Bureau Should Give Impetus to Trade

The work of the British Trade Bureau of Canada has been given wide publicity in the following editorial article in The Montreal Daily Star:

"Impetus to trade between Canada and Great Britain should result from the formation here of the British Trade Bureau of Canada on a basis similar to the Irish Trade Bureau of Canada, which has functioned for over three years.

"The British Trade Bureau of Canada will act as a link between exporters, importers and bankers of both countries and will supplement the work already being done by the Department of Trade and Commerce, the Canadian trade commissioners and The Commercial Intelligence Journal.

"According to an announcement issued by the new bureau, it has been formed to give free information to Canadian and British importers, exporters, banks, insurance companies, etc., regarding pertinent matters, including sale of Canadian goods in Britain, appointment of agents in Great Britain for Canadian exporters, application for credit from prospective British customers, sources of supply of British goods, railway and steamship passengers and freight facilities, business prospects for Canadian banks and insurance companies in Great Britain, individual or collective advertising of Canadian goods through British newspapers and advertising agencies, agencies in Canada for the sale of British goods, customs tariffs and other legislation affecting trade, and general economic conditions in Great Britain. Reciprocally, similar free information will be given to British firms wishing to do business with Canada.

"It is intended to issue a directory of all Canadian and British importers and exporters, also a periodical bulletin of trade information. It will be the policy of the bureau, it is stated, to request all organizations interested in British trade to exchange information and otherwise co-operate with it, but the bureau will be entirely independent of all other organizations."

PRICE DECLINES MARKET FEATURE

Liberal Selling at New York Yesterday—Radio Soft Spot—Rails Reactionary.

(Supplied by Branson, Brown & Co., Ltd.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—The stock market met with liberal selling and declines of from 1 to 18 points were features. Setbacks of 3 to 5 points in the active issues were numerous, and the market acted rather tired. There was little news affecting business causing the selling, but the banks called approximately $25,000,000 in the afternoon, which was the forerunner of liberal liquidation and resulted in the day's low levels.

Radio was one of the market's soft spots, later recovering part of the early decline. Wright Aero and Johns-Manville were others rather freely offered. The copper section followed the course of Anaconda and Green Cananea, both being under pressure.

Rails were reactionary, oils and motors were prominent in the selling and the former twin leaders, Steel and General Motors, led their respective groups. It appears as though today's selling will have its effect on outside sentiment and an extension of the decline is the logical thing to expect.

News of the Mines

(From Solloway, Mills & Co., Vancouver, through R. P. Castle & Co., Ltd.)

Newbec—A report from Rouyn this morning states that shaft sinking recommenced yesterday at Newbec, which was closed down for the holidays. Some mineralisation was cut in the shaft before operations ceased, and future work is looked forward to with much interest.

Granada—Crosscutting on the 625-foot level of Granada has entered a porphyry zone, which is considered a very favorable feature. It was near this formation on the first level that the best values were obtained and the No. 2 vein should shortly be encountered at 625 feet.

Dome—Although production at Dome last year was slightly off from the year 1927, it now appears that net profits for 1928 will exceed those of the previous year, as we understand that costs will be shown as less than $3.30 a ton, against $4.06 for 1927.

Amulet—We are informed this morning that diamond drilling towards the "E" ore body of Amulet has now reached a depth of approximately 75 feet, and it is expected the favorable horizon will be reached by the first of next week.

Teck Hughes—New York advices state that Teck Hughes has declared its regular quarterly dividend of 15 cents a share, payable on February 10 to shareholders of record, January 17.

Lake Shore—Good progress is reported as being made with mill additions at Lake Shore, which may be expected to increase production within the course of the next two months. In the meantime, rapid headway is being made in underground operations, which will put the mine in splendid shape for any increased production desired.

OILS

Royalite No. 14.—Lubricator now definitely sidetracked.

Home No. 1.—Is held up with twisted rods.

Royalite No. 12.—Should soon be in production.

Northwest Associated.—Is down 3,034 feet, and has made 168 feet during the week.

Devenish No. 3.—Is at 1,433 feet. Drill is being moved from Vulcan to Spooner.

Vulcan No. 1.—Likely to go on drilling with the cable tools.

Spooner No. 2.—Should be in the lime within ten days.

McDougal No. 2.—The boilers have been moved back to a safe distance and should be drilling immediately.

British Dominion—Drilling at 3,360 feet. The casing is almost to the bottom of the hole.

Eastcrest—Is drilling out of the cement.

Calmont—Still held up through the nonarrival of the special control heads.

Model No. 1.—Is held up to some extent by caving. They are casing now as they go along.

McLeod No. 3.—No success yet; No. 4 had some increase in gas.

Mayland—Has 1,800 feet of oil standing in the hole at a depth of 4,785 feet; boilers being moved back, and possibly no further drilling for a week.

Okalta No. 1.—Has produced 11,296 barrels during the month.

Deliveries of crude oil and crude naphtha to Calgary refineries for December totaled 47,505 barrels, breaking previous record by 434 barrels.

New Stock Listed on Victoria Exchange

Prosperity Mine Syndicate, Limited, made its appearance on the floor of the exchange today, closing at $1.03 bid and $1.06 asked, after a number of sales were made.

The Prosperity mine lies between the Silverado and Porter Idaho properties, and is being operated by the Premier Company. The high values of the Porter Idaho property have been obtained on ore shoots running into Prosperity, from which spectacularly rich ore was taken. The aerial tramway will be completed this year and will serve both properties.

ANSWER TO SUNDAY'S PUZZLE

Eastern Markets

News and Comment on Business Supplied by Quadra Investments Corporation, Ltd.

STOCK LETTER

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Week-end profit-taking does not explain the selling which occurred in the second hour Saturday. It is to be doubted whether the recent uprush in prices has been mainly the result of the reinvestment of January disbursements. We do not believe that bona fide investors have been rushing and climbing to take long pull position in the higher priced industrials, and think that, as a matter of comparison, there has been more investment buying in the rails and, possibly, in the utilities, than in the other active stocks of the list. Uneasiness over the credit situation is given as the reason for the growth of bearish sentiment on the part of the trading element, but it is likely that this action of the market itself, as much as anything else, has created the mood to sell.

The exceptionally fast pace of advance is a matter of record, and since the middle of last week many of the active issues have looked as if they were being carried along by momentum rather than by the entrance into the situation of real investment buying. A better test, we think, of the existence of investment buying will be on weakness, and then to see whether price recessions create a demand.

After Saturday's development, it is logical to anticipate today further uncertainty and probably renewed attempts to extend reactionary tendencies.

SPECULATIVE COMMENT

Aside from credit consideration, there have been no recent developments indicative of any radical change in the speculative situation. Good stocks continue to be taken out of the market by investors and speculators for the long pull, resulting in a steady reduction of the floating supply. A number of issues give evidence of still being under accumulation despite that they are selling at their highs. Numerous instances of this character are to be found, and especially among utilities and coppers.

Before the new year has far advanced, important mergers involving vast changes for the better in the status of leading companies in both of the above lines are likely to be officially announced. In the matter of new commitments on recessions from present levels, we should strongly prefer to risk speculative dividend payers of recognized merit rather than in those stocks which seem to have more than amply discounted a maximum of favorable developments. It is too early for data to become available upon which to appreciate impending changes in the present speculative trend. Later, when sufficient time has elapsed and enough data has come to hand to approximate the probable volume of building activity, it will be better possibly to formulate a judgment as to what may be in store for the stock market.

STOCK OPINIONS

Hutton—We can see no point whatever in buying or holding motor stocks now. Even if one or two stocks in this group do go up, the risks are high.

Beane — We call attention to Pennsylvania Railroad, and generally consider it the premier railroad investment stock.

Prince & Whitely—We are of the opinion that present purchases of Erie, Gulf, Mobile, Missouri Pacific, Western Maryland are likely to prove profitable.

Morris & Smith—We remain bullish on the rails, coppers and utilities.

MONTREAL GAZETTE

MONTREAL, Jan. 7 — International Nickel continued to be by far the most active issue here, furnishing trading in 64,446 shares during the morning session. The stock early sold up to 56, which equalled the high level established on the previous day, but toward the close a heavy wave of profit-taking came into the market for this stock, a quite natural development in view of the swift and uninterrupted rise.

The railway equipment shares were spectacular performers in the morning market, with National Steel Car outstanding. This issue, on a vigorous renewal of market interest, soared to the new high of 111 and closed at 116 for a net gain of 14 points, with trading in 6,135 shares.

Canadian Car Company shot up to the new high of 125 and closed at 122 for a net gain of 5 points, while the preferred achieved the new top of 131 and closed for a net advance of 7 points at 130. These companies are carrying on their books, in all probability, the greatest amount of business in their history, and their outlook does not seem to be confined to orders already on their books, for the railroads of this country are more likely to be heavy buyers of equipment for some years to come, and, moreover, the development of special lines appears to be of growing importance in the affairs of these companies.

Cockshutt was a strong feature of the market, closing at 44 7-8 for a net gain of 2 7-8 points, after having touched the new high of 46. This issue was also the second most active in the day's list, with trading in 16,285 shares. Cockshutt, which is now on a regular dividend basis of 1.50 per year, enjoys a sound and conservative administration, and certain quarters are inclined to look for an increase in the rate in the not far distant future, on the ground that such a development is warranted by the position of the company and its immediate prospects.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

First Sea Lord Anxious to Have Status Reviewed

LONDON, Jan. 7.—A report that Sir Charles Madden is retiring in June from the position of First Sea Lord of the Admiralty, is described as premature. Sir Charles, it seems, is anxious his position be reviewed, inasmuch as he does not desire to stand in the way of younger men.

Sir Charles, who is sixty-six years old, succeeded Earl Beatty in May, 1927, after Earl Beatty had completed seven years in the previous November, this being the maximum period an officer is allowed to serve on the Admiralty Board except under special circumstances.

Latest News From Wall Street

(Supplied by Branson, Brown & Co., Ltd.)

Willys Overland stockholders have subscribed to all the 331,000 new common shares offered at $25 with five per cent stock dividends payable February 1, will give company total of 3,000,000 shares outstanding. Plant production is expected to reach 1,500 cars daily by January 15, a new peak for mid-January, and shipments for the month are expected to exceed 30,000 cars, says a Toledo dispatch.

Reports of the U. S. Steel Corporation on unfilled tonnage at the end of 1928 to be issued on the tenth of this month is expected to show an increase of between 87,000 and 100,000 tons.

Denial report that Julius Kayser & Co., and the Gotham Hosiery Co. have plans looking toward a merger was made by an official of Kayser.

California crude oil output for week ended January 5, averaged 722,350 barrels against 714,000 in previous week.

Purchase price by Canada Dry Ginger Ale Inc., for Chelmsford Company acquired last November was $964,090 of which $606,250 was in cash and remainder 4,473 shares of Canada Dry capital stock which was purchased in open market.

Union Oil, of California, completes well No. 32 at Santa Fe Springs at depth of 6,415 feet in norstrum zone, gauging at rate of 6,250 barrels a day.

J. B. Bache—The markets action apparently demonstrates impressive faith in the immediate upward trend of both business and security prices. We still feel that the members of the copper group, the members of the food group and selected specialties will attain substantially higher levels before meeting sufficient stock to bring about more than a minor technical dip.

Prince & Whitley—We are of the opinion that present purchases of Erie, Gulfmobile, Missouri Pacific, Western Maryland and Wabash are likely to prove profitable.

NEW YORK SUGAR

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—The raw sugar market was a little firmer with refiners showing more interest and prices 1-32 cent higher at 2.80 for spot, duty paid. A sale of about 7,000 bags of Cuban from store was reported at this price. While refiners generally are not following the advance, holders are not inclined to consider anything less than 3.82.

In refined sugar a fair inquiry for prompt shipments was reported with prices unchanged at 5.15 for fine granulated.

Several refiners announce an advance of 5 points to 6.20, effective at the opening of the market tomorrow.

GOLDEN PRINCE EQUALS RECORD

Sunshine Stables' Entry Wins Five and Half Furlong Race in Equalling American Mark

(Special to The Colonist)

TIJUANA, Jan. 6.—Before a colorful throng of fifteen thousand race enthusiasts, Golden Prince carried the racing silks of the Sunshine Stables to a glorious triumph in the Bonnie Brae Handicap here this afternoon. It was a thrilling finish. Like a wave, the pick of turfdom at this Western track rolled down the Coffroth Chute, and at the end, Golden Prince, by the margin of a length, captured the day's prize from Proctor Hug, and at the same time equalled the American track record for five and a half furlongs, held by Avisack at Belmont Park, since 1923. His time was 1:04 2-5.

The onlookers realized from the start of the event that the record was in danger, because of the ease and grace with which Golden Prince maintained his front position, although challenged strongly by Proctor Hug, who has been running at top form recently. The roar that greeted the victor waited upon the hanging out of the official numbers and time, then burst full-throated for a thoroughbred that had upset predictions and consideration at the hands of the form followers, by defeating some of the fastest thoroughbreds in the West. In third position came Andromeda, running three lengths back, doing gallantly, and back of these came Noreaster and Witchmount.

An even line at the start had turned into a ragged stream at the finish, for the pace of the leaders had been a killing one. Racegoers going home had not been released from the thrill of Golden Prince's wonderful easy running, and new thought of a rearrangement of favorites in the future stake events will have much consideration for this English imported chestnut colt.

Freer, of the Arcades, started off like a house afire by toppling 199 pins in the first and 214 pins in the second, and was well on the way to beat the high mark of 600 set by Les Fox, of the Times Scribes, when he fell in the last game, and only split 118 pins. JACK DEMPSEY MAY SUCCEED RICKARD AS GARDEN MANAGER

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Rumors about the Garden indicated that Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion, and to Rickard's mind the greatest fighter ever to draw on gloves, might be offered the post left vacant by the promoter's death. Other possibilities as the new president of Madison Square Garden appeared in John Chapman, head of the Six-Day Bicycle Race Industry, and Colonel John S. Hammond, in charge of the Garden after Tex left for Miami Beach to stage the Stribling-Sharkey match.

Dempsey Says He Will Quit Ring Forever

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 7.—James M. Lynch, local hotel man and friend of Jack Dempsey, who arrived today from Miami Beach with the Rickard funeral train, said that Dempsey told him he will not enter the ring again but will "pick up where Rickard left off and devote his time entirely to promotion."

"Dempsey told me that if Tex Rickard had lived he would have fought the winner of the Sharkey-Stribling bout," said Lynch, "but added that now since Rickard is gone, he will pick up where Tex left off.

"It can be said officially that Dempsey will never fight again. He told me so yesterday while he was waiting to start north."

SOCCER TEAMS WILL RESUME

Midweek Elevens Start Play Tomorrow Afternoon After Almost Four Weeks' Rest

STRONG NAVY XI TO BATTLE BAKERS

After close to a month's rest, midweek soccer teams will resume their regular league fixtures tomorrow as follows:

Hudson's Bay vs. Saanich United, at Beacon Hill.

Rennie & Taylor vs. Navy, at the Royal Athletic Park.

Kick-offs at 2:30 o'clock.

NAVY STRENGTHENED

When the Navy oppose the league-leading Rennie & Taylor aggregation at the Royal Athletic Park tomorrow they will have out their strongest possible team and one that will include two or three new players who have recently arrived at Esquimalt. In the sailors' camp visions of handing the Bakers their first defeat hangs over their heads, as they think that their newly-organized team is just the one to hand the crack Rennie & Taylor eleven their first defeat of the season.

At Beacon Hill the boys of the green and gold will be out to retain second berth, while Saanich United will be fighting just as hard to grab off a couple of points at the expense of the Hudson's Bay.

HOBBS MAY PLAY IN OTHER TESTS

MELBOURNE, Aus., Jan. 7.—Interviewed here today regarding his reported retirement from major cricket matches, Jack Hobbs, famous English player, explained that the question of whether he had played his last test match was not for him to decide.

He had expressed a wish that if England won the third cricket test match to stand down and give others a chance. However, if the selection committee decided he should play in one of the two remaining tests, he would naturally concur.

TWO MEN DIE ON GERMAN STEAMER

Majority of Crew Off Roodelheim Rescued by U.S. Freighter Saguache

BREMEN, Germany, Jan. 7.—The captain of the American steamer Saguache today notified the owners of the 5,600-ton German freighter Roodelheim that he had saved the entire crew of the vessel, except the third engineer and the ship's carpenter, when the vessel sank. He said the steamer sprang a leak during a storm on Sunday and must be considered lost.

The captain of the Saguache said he would land the Roodelheim's crew at either Portland or Halifax, being en route there from Scandinavian ports.

The Roodelheim sprang a leak about 500 miles east of Newfoundland. She was a 5,600-ton freighter and sailed from Emden on December 19 for Boston and New York.

JUVENILE FOOTBALL LEAGUE OFFICIALS ARE SEEKING HELP

In an effort to establish juvenile soccer on a sound basis and give the youngsters the right tuition, officials of the Victoria and District Juvenile Football Leage have sounded the SOS. call for managers. A number of the teams are without the services of a guiding hand and anyone who would care to assist in this work is asked to get in touch with the secretary by telephoning 7423Y.

There is also a shortage of teams in divisions one, two and three, and the officials are anxious to secure one additional club for each of these divisions. At present there is an odd number of teams, which necessitates a weekly bye. With a new club in each division it will mean that all teams will play weekly. Clubs wishing to enter are advised to communicate with Mr. Adie, secretary of the league.

CLIFFE MAY MEET ORMAN

Efforts Are Being Made to Bring U.B.C. Battler for Mix With Victoria Lad—Would Make Good Bout

WICKENS AND MERX ASKED TO APPEAR

Harold Cliffe, University of British Columbia light-heavyweight, who registered a technical K.O. over John Warnier, Vancouver Island amateur champion, at last Saturday's amateur fistic show, may be seen here again this week-end. "Dusty" Miller, matchmaker of the Tillicum Athletic Club, is endeavoring to match Cliffe with Orman, local light-heavyweight, for the main event of Saturday night's show.

Efforts are also being made to bring Ted Wickens, Chris Marx, Bruce Hay and Parker, all of the Vancouver Amateur Athletic Club. Ted Wickens fought Wilfred Shouldice here last Saturday in one of the best scraps seen on this part of the globe for many years. Those who witnessed the Hawkes-Merx bout will remember that these boys also put up a great battle.

Bruce Hay is the British Columbia lightweight champion, and, if he decides to make the trip, he will don the gloves against the rugged "Young" Firpo. Bruce Lowe will swap punches with Parker, providing the Mainland boys come over. Clarence Leask, one of the most promising of the younger leather throwers, will also meet an outside opponent. This will make six intercity bouts, all of which promises plenty of action. Two local lads will meet in the curtain raiser.

Rifle Shooting

All members of the Fifth (B.C.) Coast Brigade Rifle Association taking part in the Winter shooting programme are asked to attend as follows: 55th and 56th Batteries tonight; 58th, 12th Siege, Anti-Aircraft and Band Friday, for final practice and selection of teams to compete for D.C.R.A. championship.

Miss Wolfenden Wins

Miss Wolfenden won the Uplands ladies' monthly medal round Saturday, when she finished with a gross 114, which, with her handicap of 35, gave her a net 79. Mrs. P. B. Elliott was second with 120-26—94.

NEW INDUSTRY FREELY AIDED

the big drawbacks to the production of pottery on a sufficiently large scale to supply the tourist demand, and when Mr. Nichol was apprised of the difficulty he promptly volunteered to present the kind of kiln required. The redeeming of this promise was among the many thoughtful acts which he carried out during his last illness. At his request potters of Victoria drew up specifications of the cost of such a kiln, and a cheque covering this, together with the freight and duty which would be added, was forwarded. The city, during Mayor Pendray's regime, offered the old land office in the City Hall for the setting up of the kiln. This has to be ratified by the new council.

MEETING ARRANGED

Next Saturday night at the home of Mrs. Grute, one of the pioneer pottery workers of Victoria, and at present a teacher in the Victoria night school, there will be a meeting of all those actually engaged in pottery manufacture, in order to formulate plans for the operation of the kiln, Mrs. Grute, Miss Carr, Mrs. Edwards and Mrs. Gross having been delegated by Mr. Nichol as a committee to carry out the details. As these and one or two others are the most experienced potters in the city, they will probably undertake for the next year or so to look after the firing of the kiln, a delicate operation in which the amateur invariably needs instruction. In course of time there will be a larger group to carry on the responsibility as the industry grows.

The pottery workers in Victoria at present number about forty, fifteen of the number being already fairly launched in the industry independently, while one of the larger classes has about twenty-five students at various stages of efficiency.

The entire cost of the kiln, including freight and duty, has been about $700, all of which is covered by the late Mr. Nichol's gift.

The new kiln, which is heated by gas, requires about six hours to fire, but has more than double the capacity and, because of the much higher temperature which can be attained, a far greater efficiency than the small kiln at the Central School, which has had to serve the potters of Vancouver Island up to the present time.

PLANE FLIES 12,000 MILES WITHOUT STOP

son and Elwood R. Quesada, and Staff-Sergeant Roy Hood walked to a waiting car which carried them to a hangar and to Cloverfield, Santa Monica, Cal., for an official physical examination.

MOTORS WEAKEN

Shortly after 1 o'clock the right motor began to weaken. When the plane landed the left motor was silent; the right motor was functioning, but a stream of oil spouted from it, and the centre engine was able to make but 100 revolutions per minute.

Two thousand persons who swarmed about the airport cheered wildly as the plane taxied across the field.

An hour before the plane came down it was apparent to those upon the field that some major trouble had cropped out. Flying between three and four thousand feet altitude, the plane gradually fell to about 1,500 feet. A thousand feet higher, the left motor had stopped. When the gasoline was seen to pour from the fuselage it became evident that a forced landing was close at hand.

DONE BY REFUELING

In its flight, never paralleled as a continuous journey by any man-made thing, the Question Mark established itself as the longest flying aircraft, either dirigible or airplane, in aviation annals. It had surpassed the record of the ill-fated French dirigible, the Dixmude, by thirty-two hours, and the mark of the dirigible, Graf Zeppelin, by thirty-nine hours. The longest airplane flight on record, that accomplished in Germany by Ristics and Zimmerman, was outdistanced by eighty-five hours, although the German mark was accomplished without refueling.

Head and shoulders above these achievements, however, the army placed a now proved theory—that refueling of airplanes while en route is a practical accomplishment. This, army officers said, was the major purpose of the flight and the height of its success was regarded as phenomenal.

STRAIN ON FLYERS

CLOVERFIELD, Santa Monica, Cal., Jan. 7.—The crew of the Question Mark was reported by a board of four army surgeons to have been found in "excellent physical condition," after examination made three hours after the grueling endurance flight ended today. The only effects noted were fatigue, which "was to be expected," the surgeons said, and the loss of one to four pounds in weight by each of the five men.

TOC H GROUP MAKES CHOICE

OFFICERS ARE SELECTED AT ANNUAL MEETING OF ORGANIZATION

Dominion Organizer Pays Visit to Local Group to Discuss Objectives

Mr. Frank Webb, Dominion organizer for Toc H for Canada, paid his first official visit last evening to the Victoria Group. He outlined the progress of Toc H so far, showing that it was increasing rapidly, membership in Canada being about 5,000. Mr. Webb explained the kind of jobs being done by Toc H in Quebec, Ontario and Manitoba. Toc H is undertaking work different from that undertaken by any service organization, he explained, and doing it in a distinctly Toc H way. The central feature of this is an understanding fellowship between man and man, with complete disregard for class distinction. Some of the jobs he mentioned were work in Hamilton East End, where they had started in conjunction with the Big Brotherhood movement, three boys' clubs, which were regularly meeting. A Winnipeg group this Summer outfitted thirteen boys' baseball teams. They were specially thanked by the Chief of Police, and asked to carry on for hockey during this Winter.

Commenting on the Victoria group he suggested that they should aim to have the group's quarters furnished by someone as a memorial room. A great many rooms had been furnished in this way across Canada.

Mr. Webb will be in the province until the end of February, and will spend a week in Victoria again before he leaves for the East. He will meet with the special committee to discuss plans for the local campaign for the Prince of Wales endowment fund for Toc H.

The meeting was an annual one. The jobmaster, Mr. H. T. Ravenhill, presented a report of the work done throughout the year by the groups as group jobs, and by individual members. These jobs are being carried on quietly at an increasing rate.

Officers were elected as follows: Chairman, H. W. Paterson; padres, Rev. J. W. Leighton and S. T. Galbraith; jobmaster, H. T. Ravenhill; assistant jobmaster, F. W. Crouch; secretary, C. K. Morison; treasurer, R. W. Hartley; pilot, J. P. McLeod; representative on the B.C. Council, Major F. B. Longstaff.

Mixed Farming Declared Best for B.C. Husbandry

Minister of Agriculture Appeals to Farmers to Embrace Variety of Activities in Their Endeavors

The Minister of Agriculture, Hon. W. Atkinson, is a firm believer in farmers, as a general thing, adopting the practice of following mixed farming. This he contends is a rule of great con sumed here. The surplus is going out on the open markets in the East where a mild Winter has also been conducive of a more than usually large supply of eggs for the particular season of the year. These eggs going on the city markets, like Montreal, are being forced into competition with the stored eggs, with ill results as far as the producer of eggs is concerned.

A heavy production of apples in the province in this past season has had the effect of leading on hand ing, which has generally been successful at that time British Columbia. It is pointed out by the minister, is pursuing a very considerable surplus of eggs over that which can be con-egg production of the province. Just now what is estimated at about 1,000 carloads of apples over the demand up to the present of the province, and of the prairie. The finding of a market for these apples is no small problem.

DAIRY PRODUCTS

The old admonition to farmers not to carry all their eggs in one basket is a good rule to follow at the present time, just as it was in the olden days. There are lines in which the Province of British Columbia is running behind the requirements of the local consuming market. The local market is almost always the best one to cater to in general products, if it is not overclouded. In the line of dairy products, it is pointed out by the minister, there is an undersupply, and the local market is not fully met by any means.

In his experience, he says, he finds that the districts that make a practice of mixing their production from the farms are invariably the most prosperous. He, therefore, from his own experience, feels justified in recommending to the farmers of the province that they hesitate before adopting specialized lines of agricultural production, and follow instead the old mixed style of farming, which has generally been successful

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY

THE HUMAN VOICE

No musical instrument has ever been devised that has the power of delicate adjustment of which the human voice apparatus is capable. The human mechanism can be trained to imitate almost any sound found in nature. The average human voice has a range of three octaves, but it is possible for the vocal cords to be so trained that they will produce sounds both higher and lower than the human ear can hear.

Men's voices being lower, cover the bass and tenor, and women's voices, being higher in the scale, include the contralto and soprano. By careful training, almost any human voice can cover all of these registers.

A smooth, rich, well modulated voice is one of the most charming qualities that a person can cultivate. It is not as valuable to be able to sing or declaim as to have a speaking voice that is interesting and compelling, and not tiresome. Perfect health, a cultivated mind and a spiritual, compassionate soul is nobly expressed in the choice of words and their manner of expression. The words uttered may be as interesting as the tones of music.

The difference between a man's voice and a woman's voice depends largely upon the size of the larynx, commonly known as the Adam's apple, which is much larger and more noticeable in man. Until puberty a boy's voice is very similar to a woman's in pitch. During puberty a male's larynx becomes enlarged quickly and a broken or cracked voice is frequently found at this time because he has not yet obtained the muscular control necessary for the changed shape of his vocal apparatus.

Although most of the sound is made by the vibration of the cords, all of the respiratory apparatus is used for forming and modulating the voice. The sound generated by the vibrating vocal cords is modulated by the size of the larynx and the shape of the throat, mouth, and nasal passage. It may be impeded or directed by the tongue, teeth, or soft palate. The volume of air below the vocal cords is controlled by the action of the lungs and diaphragm. It is formed with varying degrees of pressure against the vocal cords, causing them to vibrate. The vibratory portions of the cords may be shortened or lengthened. The edges may be sharpened or blunted. The angle at which they come together may be increased or decreased.

The loudness of the voice depends upon the relation of the energy of expiration against the force of resistance; the pitch upon the rapidity of the vibration of the vocal cords. The greater the tension of the vocal cords the higher the pitch. The quality or timbre of the voice depends principally upon the thickness of the cords and upon the overtones produced by the size of the larynx and shape and direction of the air passage.

With a little care anyone can learn to control and direct his speech so that it will be more pleasing to others. A compelling voice has been the secret of many a man's success.

(My next article will be on defections of the voice, and vocal gymnastics.)

ALLOWAY NOW SAFE AFTER MUCH ENGINE TROUBLE ON PACIFIC

Former U.S. Shipping Board Freighter Blows Out Superheater Pipes, Has Boiler Trouble and Jams Steering Gear With Broken-Down Turbines to Cap Climax Nearing Coast

Salvage King Tows Vessel From Cape Flattery Without Mishap

With a heavy list to port and with rivet heads showing through the thin coat of paint left upon her rusty sides, the former United States Shipping Board freighter Alloway, Captain J. Haugen, arrived in Esquimalt harbor at 9.15 o'clock yesterday morning after experiencing more engine trouble at sea in six days than the average freighter meets in several years.

The Alloway, built by the Moore Shipbuilding Company, of Tacoma, at Oakland, in 1918, was laid up in Lake Union, Seattle, from 1921 until last December. She is a steel screw vessel, 402.5 feet long, 53 feet beam, 32 feet deep and of 4,383 tons net. She is an oil burner, driven by General Electric geared turbines.

Purchased by the C. P. Cox Corporation, of Seattle, from the Shipping Board, the Alloway was made ready for sea and taken to Tacoma, Everett and Seattle, where she loaded 4,000,000 feet of lumber for Yokohoma and Osaka. After unloading her lumber cargo in Japan she will be delivered to Japanese interests to be scrapped.

Following the signing on of a crew of thirty-four, including a Spokane newspaper man in quest of adventure on the high seas, the Alloway left Seattle on Christmas Day, considered by some seafarers an unlucky day to leave port.

All the time that the vessel was in Puget Sound work was being done on her boilers, preparing them for the voyage of over 4,300 miles. Practically all the ship's engine-room machinery was found to have suffered from the long sojourn in Lake Union.

On December 27 heavy weather was met west of Cape Flattery as the Alloway forged ahead at from seven to eight knots. She was expected to make nine knots, but the chief engineer was fearful of straining the machinery to that extent.

Minor troubles only were experienced until 650 miles off Cape Flattery. On New Year's Day, at 10 o'clock in the morning the blow fell. The main bearing in one of the turbines burned out, and for thirty-eight hours the Alloway drifted in the trough of the waves, helpless and far from aid.

Repairs were effected by the engine-room staff, and just as Captain Haugen thought of proceeding, rusted pipes in one of the four superheaters blew out, causing more grief to those who thought that troubles were over.

It was decided to return to the coast, Victoria, as the nearest point, being chosen. Accordingly the vessel was turned about and limped back in an easterly direction as one by one twelve super-heater pipes "gave up the ghost."

Very slow time was made by the big freighter, as she was continually hove to for repairs. Now and then she wouldn't respond to the helm, which caused even more anxiety. For five days boiler trouble was experienced nearly every hour.

Last Thursday, with several puffs of steam from leaking joints and a harsh clank from the tail shaft, the turbines gave out entirely, and nothing that human hands could do proved effective in getting the Alloway to move.

WIRELESS FOR TUG

The only thing left to do was to wireless for a tug, so in the evening the Salvage King was notified and left at 11.30 on her errand of mercy. She arrived at the freighter at 2 o'clock Saturday morning, and within a few minutes was under way, bound for Esquimalt harbor.

Twice on the way back the steering gear jammed on the Alloway, just to prove to those on board that a Jonah still dogged the ship. The tow was accomplished at from four to six knots without difficulty, the Salvage King arriving at Esquimalt at 9.15 o'clock yesterday morning.

The Alloway dropped anchor until 3 o'clock, when two tugs took her helpless bulk in charge and safely towed her to the new drydock pier, where she tied up at 3 o'clock. The heavy list to port was due to the starboard boiler being pumped out and the starboard ballast tank and oil fuel tank being low.

A dismal appearance was presented by the freighter when she arrived here. Her funnel and ventilators were painted a gloomy plum color, probably faded red, and the deckhouses were a faded gray, all that was left of spic and span white, and on every side blistered and scaling paint told of her eight years of idleness. Huge square logs were piled high on the decks, secured every ten feet by rusty cross chains.

Mr. A. Melville Dollar, president of the Canadian-American Shipping Company, boarded the ship yesterday with marine surveyors and engineers from Yarrows Limited.

Several of the crew signed off here yesterday and expect to leave for Seattle today. Yarrows expect to have the Alloway ready for sea again in about a week's time. She will refuel and undergo a thorough inspection before putting to sea from Esquimalt.

DOLLAR LINE TO SPEND HUGE SUM

SAN PEDRO, Cal., Jan. 7.—Nearly $2,000,000 will be expended by the Dollar Steamship Line in reconditioning three of its round-the-world liners, the company's local officials stated yesterday. The ships are the Presidents Garfield, Harrison and Hayes.

ATLANTIC GALES LASH EAST COAST

Rough Weather Sinks Fishing Boat With Loss of Three Lives Off Long Beach

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—While the southwest was digging out of snowdrifts and the lake region was experiencing subzero temperature today, gales along the Atlantic seaboard cost at least three lives, sank small craft and drove a barge ashore.

Three members of the crew of the fishing boat Henrietta were lost when their craft sank off Long Beach, Long Island, while a fourth saved himself by swimming in the icy waters for hours before he reached land.

The blizzard in the southwest cost eleven lives, delayed trains and interrupted communication.

The gale which swept across New York State cost one life in Buffalo and heavy property damage in the western part of the state.

CARGO SPACE IS GOING TO WASTE

British Columbia Mills Fail to Supply Lumber Offerings for Antipodes

OTTAWA, Jan. 7.—Information which may affect the Government's attitude toward the subsidization of further steamship service from the port of Vancouver to the Antipodes was received by the Department of Trade and Commerce today in a letter from J. C. Irons, representing the line of steamships at present subsidized by Canada, New Zealand and Fiji Islands, to the extent of $220,000 in all, which states that cargo space on liners out of Vancouver and Victoria to Australia and New Zealand which had been offered for lumber in the past has not been filled by the mills of British Columbia.

Lumber interests of British Columbia have not made any appeal for assistance to existing lines, the communication says, they have not sought aid for the marketing of their products, and the mills have been unable to supply the lumber space offering, for a reason which the letter does not mention.

In view of the fact that British Columbia interests have been agitating for additional freight service subsidization to the Antipodes, the department will investigate the situation thoroughly, in view of Mr. Irons' communication.

Australia has paid no subsidy to the service between Canadian Pacific ports and Antipodean ports since New Zealand entered into agreement with Canada to bear a share of the burden of subsidization. It was through the mediation of Sir Joseph Ward, Premier of New Zealand, that Sir Wilfrid Laurier took the first steps to secure New Zealand's co-operation in this regard.

Tug Enterprise Sinks Suddenly On Rising Tide

LONGVIEW, Wash., Jan. 7.—The tug Enterprise, owned by the Arrow Tug & Barge Co., of Astoria, sank in twenty feet of water in the Columbia River at Westport, Ore., last night. The cause is unknown, the theory being advanced that she was swamped by the unusually high tide. No one was aboard at the time. The tug was fifty feet long and was valued at between $10,000 and $15,000. Salvage plans were being made today.

CANADIAN ROVER FREE SHIP AGAIN

Case Between C.N.S. Vessel and Calmar Finally Settled Out of Court

VANCOUVER, Jan. 7.—There will be no lawsuit in California courts to settle the responsibility for the collision on September 1 between Ss. Canadian Rover, of Vancouver, and the American ship Calmar off the Golden Gate.

It was announced this morning that the case had been settled through negotiations conducted out of court, and that a crew had been sent south on Saturday to bring the ship home.

The Rover was advertised to be offered for auction last week, but this was not necessary, in view of the settlement out of court. The vessel will arrive here late this week and will proceed to drydock for repairs, which it is estimated will cost about $18,000.

KAGA MARU ON HER LAST TRIP

NIPPON YUSEN KAISHA LINER IS TO BE REPLACED BY MISHIMA MARU

Will Enter Service Between Japan, China, Philippines and Australia

On her last trip from Victoria in the transpacific service of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, the Kaga Maru, Capt. S. Takahashi, docked at Rithet piers from Seattle at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. She left for Yokohama at 5.10.

Upon arriving at Yokohama the Kaga Maru will be tied up for overhaul and alterations to her steerage accommodations, according to Capt. Takahashi. She will then enter the service between Yokohama, Nagoya, Osaka, Kobe, Hong Kong and Manila, Davao, Zamboanga, the South Sea Islands, Brisbane, Sydney and Melbourne.

The Tango Maru, Oki Maru and Mishima Maru at present represent the Japan-Australia service of the N.Y.K. The Mishima Maru will be withdrawn to enter service between Yokohama and Victoria. She will sail from Yokohama on February 5, and is due here about February 21.

Of 7,905 gross tons, the Mishima Maru has modern accommodation for eighty-nine first class passengers, twenty-six second, twenty-four third and 310 steerage. She is 474 feet long, 54 feet beam and 34 feet deep. She was built in Kobe in 1903.

The Kaga Maru can carry thirty-two first class and seventy third class passengers. She is of 5,860 tons gross, 3,603 tons net, 445.3 feet long, 49.5 feet beam, 30.4 feet deep and was built in 1901 at Nagasaki.

Outbound the Kaga Maru left here with three cabin passengers and ten third class. Her cargo included 7,125 tons of wheat, automobiles and machinery. She carried seventy-five bags of mail.

Marine Notes

The Bengleath, which arrived at Ogden Point docks at 4:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon to load 575,000 feet of lumber, expects to get away some time today, according to King Brothers.

With one hundred tons of cargo for discharge, the Canadian National freighter, Canadian Observer, is due from California ports at 8 o'clock this morning.

SEATTLE, Jan. 7.—The schooner Cascade, which left Western Alaska for Seattle on December 1 in command of Captain Charles Sward, arrived safely on Saturday. She encountered heavy weather all the way down the coast and was for some time feared lost.

Furness Liner Detained Here For Smallpox

The Furness Pacific Company's motor liner Pacific Commerce is detained at William Head Quarantine Station on account of a case of smallpox among her crew.

Formerly plying between Victoria and the United Kingdom, the liner was recently transferred to enter freight service. She came here this trip from Shanghai under charter to pick up cargo from Pacific Coast ports, and arrived at quarantine at 10 o'clock yesterday morning.

It is understood that the vessel will be released today or on Wednesday. Captain J S Williamson is her commander.

OTTAWA EXPLAINS FISHING TREATY

United States Vessels Are Seized Only After Warnings Are Given

OTTAWA, Jan. 7.—Possible international conferences regarding the fishing treaty between Canada and the United States may come as a direct result of the allegation made by Oregon and Washington fishermen of treaty violations on the part of the Dominion on the Pacific Coast which have been forwarded from Seattle to Washington, D.C., and to Canadian Government officials. The Department of Marine and Fisheries issued the following statement this morning:

"There is no desire on the part of Canadian authorities to restrict in any way the privileges to which United States salmon trolling boats are entitled in Canadian ports, but when these boats are carrying on their fishing just outside Canadian waters or along Canadian coast, they are not being allowed to use such ports for purposes of comfort and convenience and so make them in a large measure for practical purposes bases from which to operate. Seizures were made only when such action appeared necessary to impress the above fact, and seizures were not made until after the boats concerned had received notification that Canadian ports might be used only for bona fide shelter or other treaty purposes."

At the present time United States ports charge a two-cent duty on every pound of Canadian fish sold through them. The object of the Canadian regulation is to prevent United States fishermen selling their fish in Canadian ports and thus gain advantage of the Canadian fishermen.

WORKERS HAVE AXE TO GRIND

LONGSHOREMEN OF PORTLAND, MAINE, ASK CONGRESS FOR ASSISTANCE

Aroused by Dwindling of Freight and Diversion of Business to Halifax

MONTREAL, Jan. 7.—A Portland, Maine, dispatch to The Montreal Gazette says in part:

"Thoroughly aroused by the dwindling of the passage of freight from this port on American ships in favor of shipping grain and other freight from Halifax and other Maritime Province terminals, Portland longshoremen today started a movement seeking retaliatory measures against Canadians. Congress will be asked to take some steps to combat the Dominion move to attract American business to the detriment of American ports, it was promised.

"The spokesmen for the longshoremen, of whom there are 1,000 here, many in dire circumstances for lack of work, declared that Major P. A. Currie, manager of the White Star-Dominion Line, eight years ago stated a belief that freight business would be diverted from Portland by his line. A few days ago, in Halifax, it is asserted that he declared:

"'We are done with Portland and look to Halifax for the future. We are only on the threshold of building up a great import and export trade through Halifax from the Far West.'"

Bound for Vancouver, the oil tanker Mina Brea passed up at 2 o'clock yesterday morning. Ss. Tonegawa Maru passed up at 11, according to Federal pilots.

With 450,000 feet of lumber loaded for Atlantic coast ports, the Transmarine Line freighter Suportco left Ogden Point docks at 8 o'clock last evening. She arrived here at 5.30 o'clock Sunday evening.

According to an amended schedule, the Blue Funnel liner Ixion should sail from Rithet piers for Japan and China early this afternoon.

WEST COAST SERVICE

Effective October 1, 1928, the steamer will leave for Port Alice and way ports on the 1st, 11th and 21st of the month.

The accused was taken into custody by Chief John Pry and Constable James Strong on Sunday night. While the two police officers were searching the premises for liquor, Mrs. Bernick is alleged to have offered the chief a sum of money to leave, City Prosecutor C. L. Harrison informed the court.

PIANIST AT 99 YEARS

Mrs. Louisa Adams, of Bury Saint Edmunds, Central Figure at Reunion

Mrs. Louisa Adams, mother of Rev. E. W. Adams, vicar of St. John's Church, Bury St. Edmunds, has entered on her hundredth year, and there was a happy reunion of the surviving members of her family when she celebrated her ninety-ninth birthday at her home in Barbiton, Surrey, where she has lived since 1897.

A member of a long-lived medical family Mrs. Adams, prior to her marriage in 1850 to Mr. Francis Adams, of Mia Mia's Woods and Pureza Department, who died in 1892. She had a family of eight sons and three daughters, of whom three sons and one daughter are still living.

Despite her great age, she still retains a life-long love of music and plays on her piano her favorite Early Victorian compositions, and a waltz which she herself composed many years ago. She is also an adept knitter and has ever provided a stall of her own at St. John's sale of work. Her mother, who reached the age of ninety-two years, was a friend of the late Rev. E. Beghie, a former rector of Fordham St. Martin, who was father of Mr. Harold Beghie, the well-known writer.

Mrs Adams has outlived two generations of the family's medical advisers and, in honor of her ninety-ninth anniversary was presented with the following poem by her son, Mr. Percy Adams:

How blest are they who hear their mother say,
With cheery smile, on this her natal day,
"I'm 99."
For where, indeed, can son or daughter mee,
A mother's face so uniformly sweet
Than "99"
No wrinkle there to mark the lengthy stage;
No deadness there to mar the golden age
Of "99";
No shadow falls to dim the hours of light,
For love prevails and shines from morn to night,
On "99."
At age today, which we delight to tell,
Who else can play the piano half so well
As "99?"
And whilst to her, a birthday kiss we waive,
We'll not forget to thank the God who gave Us "99."

It was Mike's first day after establishing rivets on the new skyscraper building, and he was scared to death. Pat, also an Irishman, said an old hand at the game, said to him, "Begorra, you're green at this job." "Green nothin'," answered Mike, "I'm pale white!"
